As Speaker of Senate He Was Held in High Esteem

VANCOUVER, April 28.—Hon. Hewitt Bostock, Speaker of the Dominion Senate, died late tonight at his home in Monte Creek, according to word received here. The sixty-six-year-old Senator arrived at his home at Monte Creek last Saturday suffering from uraemia. His condition gradually grew worse until today when he lapsed into unconsciusness. He died shortly after 10 o'clock tonight. His wife, two sons and three of his daughters were at his bedside. The serious condition of the Senator's health only became known in his home town of Kamloops early this evening, and his death caused a keen sense of personal loss in that city.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

On June 12, 1891, he married Lizzie Jean McCombie, daughter of Hugh Cowie, K.C., Chancellor of Durham, of "Ithandale," Wimbledon. Of the marriage there were issue: three sons, one, Lieut. A. H. Bostock, having been killed in Flanders, July 26, 1916; Hugh J. Bostock, M.Sc., McGill University, mining and geological engineer, and W. FREIGHT RATE APPLICATION BEFORE BOARD

Maritimes Ask for Lower Rates to Aid Them in Shipping Competition With West

CLAIM JUST SHARE NOT ALLOWED THEM

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, April 28.—The application of the Halifax Harbor Commission and the Maritime Board of Trade for a reduction in the grain freight rate from the head of the lakes to Saint John and Halifax was opened before the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada today. It will continue tomorrow.

As one means of directing the flow of wheat to the Atlantic port, it is proposed that the rate on the northern transcontinental line be reduced from 35.5 cents per hundredweight to 19.34 cents.

UNJUSTLY DEALT WITH

It will be argued by the applicants that the Maritime ports do not receive their just share of Canada's export wheat trade and that the transcontinental line was built to stimulate this business. Because of the rate, the business has not followed. They say that a lower rate would give to the Atlantic ports the trade to which they are entitled.

The application follows the one through which the board issued an order setting the grain rate to Quebec at 18.34 cents. That order was the subject of continued litigation and was based on a lease made in 1903, when the Grand Trunk Pacific was being built. Under it, the Eastern section of the road was to be leased to the Grand Trunk Railway and stipulated the grain rates over the road must be as low as the corresponding rates to United States ports. Although the lease was consummated, the board ruled this stipulation held.

WINNIPEG, April 28.—Alderman W. M. Konisnyk, leader of the Communist Party of Canada, tonight was ejected from the city council chamber by a special constable.

He was charged with uttering certain misleading statements, branded as "lies," concerning Alderman J. A. Simpkin, chairman of the unemployment committee, and he cannot return to the council until he has withdrawn the statements and offered public apology.

EMPHASIZE VALUE OF TRADITION

Hundreds Hear Headmasters of Historic English Schools at Massed Luncheon

MR. FLETCHER MR. MILLER SPEAK

Heads of Charterhouse and Manchester Grammar Schools Tell of British System

TWO of the party of visiting British headmasters, one representing a famous public school, and the other one of the foremost grammar schools of England, spoke of the traditions and ideals which have placed the educational institutions of Great Britain in the unparalleled position which they occupy today, to some four hundred members of the Canadian and Gyro Clubs and a number of members of the Ladies' Canadian Club, at a luncheon, which was given yesterday by the Canadian Club and the Victoria committee of the National Council of Education.

Mr. P. B. Fowler, president of the Canadian Club, occupied the chair, and introduced the speakers, Mr. Frank Fletcher, headmaster of Charterhouse, and Mr. Douglas Gordon Miller, highmaster of Manchester Grammar School.

Mr. Fletcher opened his address by stating, amidst laughter, that he had succeeded in crossing Canada without addressing a Canadian Club. "Juniores ad labores" was bad Latin, but an excellent principle, and he considered that other members of the party were "very promising juniors."

"You have no doubt made such comments upon our personal appearance as you thought fit," continued Mr. Fletcher. "I don't know whether you expected a lot of old men, with long white beards, who

Jump From Plane and Saves Life

(Associated Press)

ORLANDO, Fla., April 28.—A professional parachute jumper leaped out of a plane here yesterday to save the life of an amateur jumper.

Spike Babcock, chief pilot at the municipal airport, decided he would make his initial parachute jump and went aloft with W. F. (Thunderbolt) Knight, professional jumper. Babcock leaped at a height of 1,800 feet, but a sharp wind buffeted his chute over a lake near the airport and he fell in the middle of it.

Knight, seeing his pupil's plight, jumped from the plane at a height of 800 feet and manipulated his chute so that he landed on the edge of the lake.

He dived in, reached Babcock as the latter was nearing exhaustion and managed to keep him afloat until onlookers on shore rigged up an improvised raft, paddled to the pair and hauled them to land.

Both jumpers were unharmed.

CATHEDRAL BURNED

School Lands Made Subject of Debate In Federal House

(Associated Press)

OTTAWA, April 28.—The status of the school lands and the school lands funds under the agreements transferring the natural resources to the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta aroused debate in the House of Commons tonight. The bill, which approves the agreement entered into between the Province of Manitoba and the Federal Government, came before the House for second reading. It was at this stage that Mr. C. H. Cahan, Conservative member for St. Lawrence-St. George, brought up the school lands question. Eventually the bill passed the second reading, also went through committee stage and received third

PUBLIC WANTS NEW METHODS IN EDUCATION

Reduction in Cost of Schools, Says Hon. J. Hinchliffe, Makes for Loss of Efficiency

SUBJECT DEBATED AT LUNCHEON MEETING

VANCOUVER, April 28.—"Cost of education per child has gone up because we are doing so much more for each child," declared Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe in a talk on school taxation before the combined civic and advertising bureaus of the Board of Trade at luncheon here today.

"If we reduce the cost of education we reduce its effectiveness and its effect on the generation who will occupy the province after us," he added.

The Minister of Education enumerated some of the educational methods employed today which were not in vogue twenty-five to fifty years ago.

CHALLENGES POLICY

The remarks evoked a challenge from Mr. R. D. Williams, president of the Board of Trade, who said that the educational services provided today went beyond the proper function of the state.

"Some people who did not have these facilities have risen to positions of high responsibility without

The debate was precipitated when the second reading of the bill was called.

ASKS FOR EXPLANATION

Responding to the request of Mr. C. H. Cahan, Conservative, St. Lawrence-St. George, for an explanation, Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, declared there was little to add to what he had already said on the matter. The Provincial Government had already passed legislation in this connection and was now awaiting the Federal enactments.

The bill, said Mr. Calvin, was of such prime importance that a clearer statement might have been expected from the minister. Its chief importance centred around the fact that it purposed vesting in Manitoba the school lands and school land funds which had been set aside in trust at the introduction and enactment of the first Dominion Lands Act. The extent of the school lands fund as at present accumulated, and of the school lands not yet appropriated, was great indeed.

GREAT ACREAGE

The land area of Manitoba was 148,432,648 acres; of Saskatchewan, 155,764,480 acres, and of Alberta, 161,872,000 acres, or a total for the three provinces of 466,069,128 acres.

Prices Up But Export Trade Dull

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, April 28. — Early weakness brushed aside, the wheat market recorded substantial gains at the close today, all futures swinging upward.

Crop damage in Oklahoma, along with heavy buying at Chicago, forced prices up here, and at the finish values were 1 5-8 to 2 cents above Saturday, with May at $1.07 3-4; July, $1.07 3-8, and October, $1.13 7-8 to $1.13.

Pit trade increased noticeably today, but export business still lagged, while the demand for cash wheat and coarse grains was not urgent.

Now Allowed to Teach French in Ottawa Schools

OTTAWA, Ont., April 28.—The Evening Citizen, in its news columns today, says:

"Full, official approval has been given by Premier Howard Ferguson, as Minister of Education for Ontario, for the Ottawa Public School Board to inaugurate in September next the teaching of French in the two highest grades of the public schools. The board approved the plan some weeks ago, subject to the approval of the Provincial Department of Education, which has now come to hand in the form of a letter from the minister, which will be presented to the board at its next regular meeting on Thursday night of this week. Ottawa will be the first city in Ontario to give instruction in French in schools that are entirely English speaking."

CARTOGRAPHY OF CANADA COSTLY

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, April 28.—One hundred and fifty maps of Canada have been made by the topographical survey since 1917, according to an answer given in the House of Commons today, and the cost of compiling these maps was $960,890. The largest area surveyed was in Manitoba, where 98,247 square miles have been surveyed. The revenue derived from the sale of these maps since 1924 amounts to $16,590.

Ontario Divorce Bill Is Again Cause of Vigorous Debate in Commons House

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, April 28.—Steps taken to discourage any attempt to obstruct the passage of the Ontario Divorce Court Bill resulted in a jumbled afternoon in the House of Commons today with two divisions. Mr. J. S. Woodsworth (Lab., Winnipeg North Centre) announced, when the first of a long list of bills granting divorce came up for second reading, that he proposed to move an amendment postponing consideration of these bills until May 12, so that the Divorce Court Bill might be disposed of before they were dealt with.

He stated definitely that if the majority of members refused to allow the Ontario Divorce Bill to pass he would insist upon a "roll call vote" in the case of each private Ontario divorce bill.

The amendment was moved on the first bill to be called for second reading, and when Mr. Speaker called the yeas and nays, the amendment was declared carried without a formal roll call. This put over this divorce bill. Four more were dealt with in the same manner.

HOUSE STANDS FIRM

The sponsors of bills farther down on the list, realizing that the amendment had a majority, declined to press their bills, and scores of them stood over until one was reached where the applicant lived in the Province of Quebec. This was sponsored by Mr. J. T. Thorson (Liberal, Winnipeg South Centre).

He explained that his bill had nothing to do with an Ontario divorce court and, under the circumstances, Mr. Woodsworth proposed to withdraw his amendment in the case of this bill. The House refused to permit him, with the result that the amendment was declared carried in this case also without a roll call.

All the bills in which the applicants lived in the Province of Ontario failed to make progress, some fifty altogether either being allowed to stand or being put over until May 12.

During the debate Hon. R. B. Bennett suggested that all that was being done was to "put off until tomorrow what we should do today."

SUN'S ECLIPSE IS WELL SEEN BY OBSERVERS

Spectacle of Great Interest and Attracted Large Crowds of Eye Witnesses

TWILIGHT DARKNESS STRANGE AND EERIE

(Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—The rare phenomenon of a total eclipse of the sun was witnessed over a narrow swath across Northwestern United States today in addition to being a spectacle of much interest which may have brought to astronomers new information regarding our chief source of heat, light and energy.

As a spectacle the eclipse brought countless thousands of persons in Northern California, Nevada, Ohio and Montana out into the open with smoked glasses to witness the sun's occlusion by the moon.

PATH OF TOTALITY

The path of totality was both narrow and relatively short, starting at a point in the Pacific Ocean west of San Francisco about 9:36 a.m. (P.S.T.), the moon's shadow moved northeastward at a rate of 1,200 miles an hour, entering Nevada at Honey Lake, Cal., and passing onward into Idaho and Montana, where it left the earth.

The path of totality was about three thousand feet wide, each direction from that path the percentage of totality diminished, until three or four hundred miles away

MUTINY RAMPANT IN OHIO PENITENTIARY

State Prison Seethes With Revolt and Several Serious Situations Arise—Concessions Made to Prisoners Do Little to Quell Spirit of Rebellion —Warden Threatens Drastic Action

Preparations Are Made to Meet Likely Emergencies

(Associated Press Cable)

COLUMBUS, O., April 28.—The mutinous convicts in Ohio penitentiary kept prison officials in a state of turmoil today, obtained concessions from them and refused to work, but never once got beyond their control. Seething in a spirit of unrest that followed the disastrous fire of a week ago, in which 320 lives were lost, the prisoners rose up in revolt again after a comparatively quiet week-end. A detail of 150 Columbus policemen was rushed into the prison yard this morning. National Guardsmen mounted machine guns on the walls and on the outside, and leaders of the revolt were either placed in solitary confinement or transferred to other institutions.

Tear gas bombs and gas masks were taken inside for emergency duty, and forty-four men added to the guard staff. The prisoners who refused to be orderly went without breakfast and were threatened with no food at all.

It was another hectic day, but the forces of law and order were on top when late today some 1,300 convicts, tired and worn from long hours of noisy disturbance, returned to their cells from the mess hall and either fell into their bunks or sought diversion in card games.

WARDEN IS FIRM

What the future holds depends upon the course officials adopt. Warden Preston E. Thomas, whose removal the convicts demand, remained firm in his determination that he men must go back to work. They have done no work since the fire.

The convicts said they would go to the shops when ordered, but would refuse to work. "They can kill us first," was the word sent out by several revolters. At times today the situation appeared especially threatening. Thomas held frequent conferences with Colonel R. S. Haubrich, in charge of the National Guard.

Colonel Haubrich announced he would recommend to State Welfare Director Hal Griswold that the rebellious convicts be removed from the idle house to other institutions, or that they be confined behind a stockade somewhere near here while the locks on their cells are repaired.

LOCKS ARE JAMMED

Since the fire the cell locks have been jammed with paper and tobacco, and some have been broken off. When the latest series of disorders started, cell doors were

MUTINY OF NATIVE TROOPS REPORTED

BOMBAY, April 28.—In the absence of any serious disorders today, Mahatma Gandhi introduced a new move in his civil disobedience campaign that may mean more trouble for the British authorities. The Nationalist leader authorized nonpaymegt of land revenue taxes in the districts of Broach and Taluka, and that, in the opinion of obeservers here, may have serious consequences.

WOMEN ARE ACTIVE

Mrs. Gandhi sponsored the chief activity of the Mahatma's nonviolent programme today. With women volunteers in two motor buses, she left Jalapur for Onjar to carry on the fight against liquor. The women followed their usual procedure of picketing the saloons and marching in the streets while chanting songs against the evils of drink.

Want B.C. Stone To Be Used for Building Hotel

VANCOUVER, April 28.—A request that British Columbia stone be used for the proposed Canadian National hotel will be made by the city to Colonel T. A. Hiam, assistant here to the C.N.R. president. The city council this morning passed a resolution to this effect, when Mayor W. H. Malkin remarked that the Board of Trade had asked him to seek the council's endorsement of the proposal that British Columbia stone be used. The mayor said that three types of stone are available: A Manitoba product, United States stone, and Haddington Island, B.C., material.

Budget Probably Will Be Brought In on Thursday

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, April 28.—The speed with which the bill sanctioning the return of the natural resources to Manitoba passed the House of Commons this evening makes Thursday almost a certainty as the date when Hon. Charles Dunning will bring down his budget. It is understood that the Minister of Finance has the budget speech practically ready and is anxious to deliver it this week, Thursday if possible.

Unless some unexpected obstacle developes, the bills returning the natural resources to Alberta and Saskatchewan, as well as the Crown lands to British Columbia, will have received third reading by tomorrow night's closing, or at latest on Wednesday, which would leave the decks clear for the budget on Thursday.

Seeding Is Being Rushed And Favorable Rains Are Proving of Much Benefit

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, April 28.—Ideal seeding weather across the greater part of the Prairies today found farmers rushing toward completion of their sowing. Rains fell in Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta, assuring a moist seedbed in some sections. Fair weather, with scattered showers, was the forecast for the Prairie Provinces today. Through Southern Alberta heavy rain over the week-end made certain that the crop could be carried some considerable time. Half an inch of moisture was recorded at Lethbridge, one-quarter at Medicine Hat and one-third of an inch at Calgary.

In this southern section of the province 40 to 75 per cent of wheat is reported sown.

No rain fell in Northern Alberta areas over the week-end, but soil condition is good and seeding is being hurried with the hope that it may be compieted this week. Half of the sowing, speaking generally for the northern section, is still to be completed.

FARMERS RUSH WORK

Southern Saskatchewan rains yesterday were such as to prove beneficial to the new sowing, though not heavy enough to retard operations. With perfect weather, farmers toiled to complete their work, now approximately half done throughout the province. A tenth of an inch of rain fell at Saskatoon, in the north; just a trace was recorded at Regina, but at Swift Current in the southwest, a generous half-inch was received.

No rains were listed by meteorological authorities in Manitoba, but soil conditions are comparatively good, due to Fall rains and fair Spring showers. Farmers in Manitoba, away to an especially good start, are well on with their seeding, and wheat appeared above ground in some places last week

RED TERROR DEVASTATES AND SLAYS

Communist Bandit Hordes Sweep Over North China, Looting and Slaughtering

THOUSAND CHINESE CRUELLY MASSACRED

(Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, April 28.—Bandits armed with machine guns massacred 1,000 residents at Kingsuchen, North Kiangsu Province, Saturday, it was learned today. One thousand captives were carried off with loot which was burned.

This latest massacre by bandits, who have recently slain thousands in other sections of China, took place within 100 miles of Nanking, seat of the Nationalist Government, whose troops have not shown themselves capable of coping with widespread banditry. It is on a gigantic scale.

PEASANTS TORTURED

The countryside about Kingsuchen was ravaged and peasants were tortured. Mounted upon horses, the bandits dashed into the town, posted machine guns and mowed down the helpless inhabitants, afterward looting their homes before setting fire to them.

Two priests were kidnapped by brigands who sacked the city of Sientaochen, fifty miles northwest of Hankow.

Most of the personnel of the mission were safe, while four sisters were reported to have fled to Hanyang.

Hope was felt that twenty-five foreigners injured in the bandit besieged city of Kanchow were safe. A telegram received by authorities at Canton from the commander of the Chinese defending troops asked that "aditional forces be sent to assist in clearing out the Reds," who have surrounded the city for seven weeks. Officials in Canton believed the message indicated the defenders were gaining strength and hoped with moderate assistance to vanquish the Red besiegers.

INHABITANTS MURDERED

Communists, who captured Singeng, south of Kanchow, April 12, and murdered 200 inhabitants, were reported to have departed toward Anyuan and were believed to be transferring their operations to Southern Fukien Province.

Members of the Swedish mission at Kienli, Hupeh Province, were reported to have fled from the city when it was attacked by 6,000 Communists.

PRIESTS ARE SHOT

SHANGHAI, April 28.—Chinese press advices received here today said the two Catholic priests kidnapped yesterday by bandits, who raided and looted Sientaochen, Hupeh Province, had been shot by their captors.

The priests, from the St. Columbans, Nebraska, Mission, were believed to have been Father Lassah and Father Francis Murray.

Of the surveyed tract there was in Manitoba 37,376,098 acres; in Saskatchewan, 79,153,099 acres, and in Alberta 86,648,066 acres, or a total of 202,070,062 acres. This left an unsurveyed tract of 263,909,057 acres, of which one-eighteenth must, under the law, be set aside as a school lands endowment. That was to say 14,665,000 acres of potential school lands remained unsurveyed.

At present, continued Mr. Cahan, the total of surveyed school lands was 9,242,700 acres, of which only 3,628,090 acres has been disposed, leaving 5,714,601 acres of surveyed acres still unsold.

When these school lands were sold, Mr. Cahan, proceeded, the moneys thus received were set aside as a fund held by the Federal Government, the interest on which was paid to the several Provincial Governments. This fund was large. In Manitoba it had amounted to $5,868,709.8, of which $5,880,000 was invested in Dominion debenture stock. For Saskatchewan the total was $16,646,176.08, of which $16,645,004 was invested, and in Alberta $9,124,536.28, of which $9,124,000 was invested.

HELD IN TRUST

As at March 31, 1929, the Dominion held in trust for these three provinces a total of $31,659,423.24, of which $31,649,800 was invested in Dominion debentures, interest on which was paid to these provinces.

Mr. Cahan declared that it had been the intention of Parliament years ago to provide for the maintenance of the school lands and school and land funds for all future time. Looking at the Manitoba agreement, he was of the opinion that this agreement should have been submitted to the Dominion Parliament before execution so that all provisions in respect to school lands might be considered in the light of what had been the intention of Parliament.

In place of adopting this procedure, the Government, Mr. Cahan stated, had induced these administrations to obtain ratification of the agreements by the respective legislatures before introduction in Parliament, so that it made it difficult to ask for any amendment to carry out the expressed wishes of Parliament in respect to school lands without members suggesting that such amendment being placed in a position of opposition to the return of resources to the provinces.

He was of the opinion that the school lands being transferred to the Western Provinces were not being transferred in a trust or trust estate.

GREAT ACHIEVEMENT

In reply to Mr. Cahan, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, recalled a speech made by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, as Prime Minister, in 1921. Mr. Meighen had stated the problem of the return of the natural resources to the Prairie Provinces was so difficult it was almost impossible to arrive at a solution.

"It is an achievement," said Mr. Lapointe, "that we are able to present to the House today agreements with the three provinces providing a complete solution of this problem. It is a great thing when we are on the eve of tremendous development of our natural resources that the deck should be cleared for action and this obstacle to progress removed."

their aid," he commented pointedly. "Educational cost has reached the point where it is breaking the taxpayers' back. And how much better off are the children receiving all these additional services?

"When I was going to school boys who wished to misbehave climbed the fence and stole a few apples. Today they steal an automobile and go joy-riding."

Mr. Williams argued that the state should provide a basis of general education and let parents or the youths themselves obtain specialized training if they desired.

CONDITIONS CHANGED

Mr. Hinchliffe, in a brief reply, said the fallacy in Mr. Williams' argument was that he had probably never had the opportunity of stealing an automobile when he was a boy.

An unusually large attendance greatly enjoyed the controversy which concluded the meeting.

Mr. Hinchliffe had been asked to discuss taxation for educational purposes and its relation to general assessment. Before reaching this point he said it was necessary to lay a foundation by analyzing the reason why educational costs had increased. At some future date he said he would welcome the opportunity of discussing the next step, the equitable distribution of the burden over the taxpaying body at large.

Higher education costs had been created by public demand for things that had not been provided in the school system in former days.

DEMANDS OF PRESENT

People were no longer content with a basic training in reading, writing and arithmetic for their children. History had become a study of social conditions throughout the ages. Geography was new commercial geography.

Moral and ethical instruction, formerly given in the homes, was now expected in the schools. Manual training and technical instruction requiring costly plant and equipment were now demanded. Health instruction necessitated special training for the teaching body.

"The new standard costs more, and it is worth it," declared Mr. Hinchliffe. "Would we be willing to go back to the old standards of fifty years ago?" the minister asked.

Annual Loan By-Law Before City Council

FIRST passage was given last evening by the City Council to the annual loan by-law, which will authorize a credit with the bank up to $500,000 secured against the current taxes. The interest rate will be 5½ per cent, payable to the Bank of Montreal on the amounts advanced whenever required.

Bread Price Not Abnormal and No Cause for Probe

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, April 28.—No evidence has been advanced to justify an inquiry into the price of bread, and bread prices during the past year have shown no abnormal tendencies in relation to the price of wheat. This was the answer given by the Government today in reply to a question from Mr. T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto Northwest. Mr. Church called attention to the decline in wheat prices and asked if the Government would undertake to find out if a combine existed in the bread business. He also asked whether an inquiry would be made into the high cost of living in Canada.

In the reply it was stated that investigations were being made regularly into the cost of living and were published by the Bureau of Statistics. Special inquiries would be made if they appeared necessary. The average price of bread, it was pointed out, advanced three-tenths of a cent per pound last Fall, but had since declined two-tenths of a cent.

REFUSE NOW TO PAY TAX UPON LANDS

At Karachin, 8,000 Nationalists burned a pile of foreign-made cloth fifteen feet high while a British army airplane watched from high above. The demonstrators paraded through the streets, chanting songs against the Government and escorting the cloth in three camel carts.

CENSORSHIP RESTORED

The Government's part in the news today was the reinstatement of the press censorship laws of 1910 for native papers, on the ground that those papers were spreading rumors and fomenting discontent.

Viceroy Lord Irwin, in taking the action, explained that "the spirit of revolution, fostered by civil disobedience, now is beginning to emerge in dangerous form."

TROOPS IN REVOLT

LONDON, April 28.—The India Office tonight revealed the fact that during the rioting at Peshawar, Northwest Frontier Province, last Wednesday, some of the Indian Government's native troops had become mutinous. The office issued the following communique in explanation:

"In view of the possibility of exaggerated and misleading rumors, the Government of India think it advisable to make known that during the recent disturbance at Peshawar, when troops had to be employed, the conduct of a small element, namely, two platoons of the Second Battalion of the Eighteenth Royal Garhwal Rifles, was found to be unsatisfactory.

"The battalion has been sent to Abootabad, where an inquiry will be held in due course."

The Garhwal Rifles, recruited in the mountainous districts of Garhwal, lying in the Himalaya region of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, are composed of high caste Hindus. Their fighting traditions are excellent. During the European War they won two regimental Victoria Crosses.

The India Office gave no further details of the trouble.

Advises Liberal Votes Should Go To Conservative

(Canadian Press Cable)

LONDON, April 28.—Whether or not any truce was arranged between the Labor and Liberal parties in Parliament a few weeks ago, it is not extending to the by-election in West Fulham. In West Fulham there are Conservative and Labor candidates, and the Liberal candidate in the 1929 election, Mr. Arthur Gale, has advised Liberals of the constituency to vote for Sir Cyril Cobb, Conservative.

In the absence of a Liberal candidate, Liberal support for the Conservative would "Do a world of good," the Conservative candidate agent says. "It would help us tremendously."

PLANE CRASH KILLS EIGHT

Aeroplane Giving Sunday Exhibition Falls Into Crowd With Fatal Effects

PILOT ARRESTED ON TECHNICAL CHARGE

FAYETTEVILLE, Tenn., April 28—Eight members of nearby farming communities who climbed to a railroad embankment for an unobstructed view of a Sunday aeroplane exhibition lay dead today, victims of a sight-seeing plane which fell near its landing field. More than a dozen others were injured, three critically.

The pilot, Milton L. Covert, aged twenty-three, Columbia, Tenn., who with two companions escaped uninjured, was held in jail on a technical charge of murder pending a hearing today. Covert was exonerated of blame by the manager of the exhibition and Sheriff M. W. Rhea, but the officer said he removed the pilot to a neighboring jail as a precautionary measure against possible violence.

Spectators in the crowd of several thousand which had surrounded the field proper said the plane was heading for a landing at an elevation of only ten feet when it dropped suddenly on the group gathered on the embankment. Al Gombert, manager of the flying organization which sponsored the exhibition with the American Legion post, said he believed the plane struck a downward current.

"It was over so quickly I couldn't tell what happened," Pilot Covert said.

Four of the victims were decapitated by the propeller of the plane and the others were crushed by its weight.

Covert said the spectators had been warned several times not to stand near the embankment.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE AT LOIS RIVER PROJECT

Comptroller of Water Rights Visits Undertaking of Powell River Company

TAP RIVER BY TUNNEL SYSTEM

The Powell River Company is losing no time in getting ready for increasing its output of production following the permission being given to submit plans for the development of power at Lois River by the Water Controller's office. During the week-end, Major J. C. MacDonald, comptroller of water rights for the province, visited the location and inspected the operations which the company is carrying out, with the object of being in a position to increase the output of the mill this coming Fall.

In order to cope with the situation the company carried a power transmission line from the mill at Powell River to the location where the work is being prosecuted. This serves in its course to provide the motive power for the working of the necessary machinery that is used in the operations under way, and which are quite extensive.

The Lois River is being tapped on its course to the sea by means of a tunnel which, when completed, will carry the water used from the river for a distance of a mile and one-tenth, and utilise it at Stillwater on a bay south of the mouth of the river where, in turn, the power generated will be carried over a transmission line to Powell River, which now serves to carry power from the latter point to provide for the work.

Dams are being constructed on the river to provide a head of water to meet the requirements, and the company has acquired the railway which was used by the Brooks-Scanlon Logging Company, when the land in that vicinity was being logged. This line takes the supplies from deep water at Stillwater to the dams, and the other works along the route, so that the rushing of the work is greatly facilitated.

The object is to get a preliminary amount of power for use early this Fall, with more to follow later, as the work of constructing further storage capacity in the river is carried out.

The whole work in view is estimated at some $10,000,000.

VANCOUVER POST WINS TROPHIES

Terminal City Native Sons of B.C. Degree Team Defeats New Westminster Representatives

Vancouver Post No. 2, Native Sons of British Columbia, secured possession of the Bruce A. McKelvie Ghallenge Trophy, and also the J. P. H. Bole Challenge Cup for next term, at the grand post of the Native Sons of British Columbia meeting in Nanaimo on Saturday night.

The degree teams of the Vancouver and New Westminster Posts competed in the annual initiation contest, while the Royal City representatives made a determined effort to capture the McKelvie award for the third successive time, the Terminal City team emerged victorious from the competition.

Past Grand Factor W. H. Kinsman, of Victoria, Chief Factor J. C. McGregor, of Nanaimo, Grand Vice-Factor John Bennett, of Nanaimo, and Grand Treasurer J. O. Lee, of Fort Langley, officiated as judges. At the conclusion of the ritualistic work, Mr. Bennett, speaking for the judges, congratulated the degree teams of the participating posts upon the splendid character of their performance.

The presentation of the McKelvie and Bole Cups to the Vancouver Post was made by Mr. J. P. Hampton Bole, of Vancouver, grand factor of the Native Sons of British Columbia, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Patterson, of Vancouver, grand factor of the Native Daughters of British Columbia.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS

By defeating the Vancouver ladies' team, the Nanaimo Post of the Native Daughters of British Columbia captured the Victor B. Harrison Challenge Cup for ritualistic work among the posts of the Native Daughters. The judges were Mrs. C. D. Peele, New Westminster, past grand factor; Miss Merle Lorimer, of Victoria, past grand guide, and Messrs. W. H. Kinsman, Victoria, J. C. McGregor and John Bennett, of Nanaimo, and J. O. Lee, of Fort Langley. On behalf of the judges Mr. Lee complimented the two degree teams on the fine manner in which they carried out their initiation work.

Mr. Victor B. Harrison, of Nanaimo, donor of the trophy, made the presentation of the cup to the Nanaimo Post, Native Daughters of British Columbia.

ALASKA-YUKON B.C. ROAD SURVEY

Reconnaisance of Route Is Contemplated to Be Carried Out This Year

A preliminary investigation into the project of a road across British Columbia to connect with the Yukon and Alaska, will be undertaken this year under the Department of Public Works. It is the announced intention of the Government of the province to do something along this line during the Summer, so that when Fall comes there will be considerably more information respecting the possibility of such a road than exists at present.

In the carying out of the reconnaissance surveys, the departmental engineers in charge will be prepared to take advantage of any assistance which they can obtain in the matter of aerial surveys and pictures which might save time and trouble in ascertaining the character of the country.

The endeavor will be not to become wedded to any particular route into the North on the part of the British Columbia Government party or parties, but to gather all the information possible looking to the best route should such a project be finally decided upon.

It is believed to be possible to locate a road route which would not be attended with high elevations, but which would for the most part be by water grades practically all the way.

The United States Government is going to make extensive surveys of its part of the undertaking in Alaska, and some of the results of the aerial surveys of that Government may be made use of to some extent by the British Columbia parties.

New Government Of Saskatchewan To Help Farmers

REGINA, Sask., April 28.—More than 9,000 cars of fodder and feed oats have been shipped through the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture into the drought area of the province. The figures, announced yesterday, include 6,940 carloads of hay and 1,365 carloads of oats. Special rail tariff arrangements for relief shipments terminate at the end of this month. During the 1920-21 Winter, when last relief was given to drought-stricken farmers, 11,000 carloads of fodder and feed were shipped.

COPPER CLAIMS ARE LOCATED

Another Group in Watershed of Robertson River Is Examined With View to Bonding

WELL LOCATED FOR DEVELOPMENT

Application has been filed for a group of copper claims on a tributary creek of the Robertson River, Lake Cowichan, about three miles from Camp 10 of the Victoria Lumber & Manufacturing Company.

This property is northeast of the copper group which was the subject of reference in The Colonist several weeks ago, the two groups being about a mile or more apart, one close to the main channel of the river, the other on an unnamed creek which flows westerly to join the Robertson.

These claims have been examined by an engineer, it is believed on behalf of the American Smelting & Refinery Company, and the recommendation is to continue the preliminary work, with a view to bonding the property, as well as other copper claims in the vicinity.

Should there be disclosed good ore as a consequence of further work, and the preliminary development is said to be distinctly encouraging, it will be an easy property to operate, as the Robertson River private railway for logging operations of the Victoria Lumber & Manufacturing Company, and McDonald-Murphy Company, passes near, and connects with standard gauge railway of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway at the foot of the lake.

A water record has also been sought for the property, upon which further work will be done this Summer.

SOLUTION FOUND FOR POTATO SALES

Marketing Problem Settled on Basis of Revision of Regulations

A solution of the potato marketing under the provision of the Provincial Act seems now to have been reached. The marketing of potatoes will fall under the charge of the central committee of direction, of which Mr. F. C. Black is the chairman, but at the same time the potato growers will have to take care of the costs of administering the work in connection with that end of the produce marketing.

Hon. W. Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, has returned from the Lower Mainland, where he attended last week a conference in which this matter was taken up in the hope of arriving at a solution. The central committee of direction did not wish to assume any charges connected with the potato selling, because the fruit growers of the Interior, who were the original producers to be dealt with under the Marketing Act, were averse to assuming any responsibility in a financial way for anything arising out of the potato handling.

The sentiment of the growers of potatoes, says Mr. Atkinson, seemed to be strongly in favor of control of the market. A committee was named to meet Mr. Barratt, one of the members of the central committee of control, on Saturday night, to try and find a way out of the difficulty.

Press reports show that a solution was arrived at, and the growers are agreed to levy upon themselves to pay the necessary amount that will be required to carry into effect adequate control of the potato situation. It will therefore be possible for the carrying into effect of a marketing scheme for the potato crop in a similar way to which it was attempted before. There will be some alterations made in the regulations enforced, which will make for the elimination of the objections raised last year against the control. The requirements with regard to grading the potatoes will be changed so that the complaints last year may not again be raised in objection.

Application for Wages Increase Is Turned Down

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Ont., April 28.—Rejection of the demand of railway and steamship clerks, freight handlers, express and station employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway for a general increase in wages of 6 cents per hour, is recommended in the majority report of the board of conciliation appointed to investigate the dispute. A minority report, prepared by J. V. Foster, of Montreal, employees' representative, reaches diametrically opposite conclusions, and finds the demand of the employees justifiable.

The reports have been presented to Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, and were made public by him today. The application for an investigation was made in June, 1929.

HIGHER FEES TO LIQUIDATE DEBT

Will Increase Licence Fees for Marketing Potatoes to Pay Off Indebtedness

VANCOUVER, April 27.—An increase in licence fees by the Lower Mainland committee of direction for the marketing of potatoes, will be put into effect in order to pay off an indebtedness of $6,000 to the Interior committee of direction, it was agreed at a meeting between Mr. G. A. Barrat, of the Interior committee, and a delegation of Lower Mainland growers on Saturday night.

The proposal was favorably looked on by Mr. Barrat, who stated, however, that it would have to be affirmed by the Interior committee.

The committee will also make a survey of the Lower Mainland situation to decide the practibility of control on the Lower Mainland and the prospects of successfully enforcing control.

The new scale will be: Increase from $1 to $2.50 in retailers' licences; increase maximum licence of growers from $5 to $10. At the present time the growers' licence is $1 per ton for five tons, with the maximum of $5. Levies will be left unchanged.

In the event of the Interior committee agreeing to the proposals for an increase in the licence fee, the proceeds from which would wipe out the accumulated law costs involved in the litigation to uphold the validity of the act, it would follow that the Interior committee of direction would continue in control as in the past. Mr. Barrat stated at the meeting that the proposals seemed reasonable, and indicated that he would recommend them to his committee.

SMART CAPTURE

SEATTLE, April 28.—Within five minutes after he had robbed the Marine Central Bank, at Times Square here, of about $1,000 to $1,500 about noon today, Julius Wheeler, a clerk, was captured by police with the entire loot in his pockets.

HEADMASTERS SEE TIMBER

Beautiful Cathedral Grove Visited by British Party on Sunday as Guests of Premier

HON. N. S. LOUGHEED ACTS AS GUIDE

Through the efforts of the Prime Minister, Hon. S. F. Tolmie, about half the members of the Old Country headmasters who were in the city for the week-end were able to see what the primeval forests of Vancouver Island looked like. They were taken, on the invitation of Dr. Tolmie, directly from the steamer Sunday morning, and given a fast drive to Cameron Lake, where amid the virgin forest through which the highway runs, they and the party accompanying them from the city, had their lunch which had been dispatched ahead, and was in readiness when the visitors arrived. Through an unfortunate occurrence the telegraphic message which had been sent to the party in Vancouver advising them of the trip did not reach them, and there was a little delay in getting started from the city.

An interesting feature of the visit to the forest was the short talk which was given by Hon. N. S. Lougheed, whose long and intimate connection with the lumber business, well qualified him to explain the details connected with the trade. Standing argong the giant trees he gave the approximate ages of the trees selected by the visitors with their height, and the details connected with the handling of such trees, when it came to clearing the forest.

The revenue of the province from such a tree, the price derived by the logger, the price paid by the mill man, and the approximate number of feet of lumber with its value which would be taken from such a tree were all explained by the Minister of Public Works.

In addition to the Premier and Mrs. Tolmie, there were present also Mrs. R. G. Harvey, of Bristol, who was in the city for the marriage of her son; Hon. N. S. Lougheed and Mrs. Lougheed, Hon. F. P. Burden, Mayor Anscomb and Mrs. Anscomb, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Chetham, representing the C.P.R.; Rev. Montague Bruce, Miss Denison, Mr. O. H. Nelson, and Miss M. Nelson.

The visitors were delighted with the opportunity to see the timber and were enthusiastic over the whole of the trip in spite of the fact that it had to be made in hurried time.

FACTS CONFOUNDING THEORIES

"There ain't no sich animyle!" That is what an American rustic is said to have said when he saw an elephant for the first time. That is what the irrepressible Canadian, Lord Beaverbrook, said recently when discussing "Free Trade as they have it in England." There is not even Free Trade in England, although there may be a goodly number of people there who call themselves Free Traders. There certainly is not Free Trade in Canada, although there are a comparatively few Free Traders here, and they are not adding to their numbers. There are two or three newspapers in Canada which daily profess to be Free Traders in their principles, but they are so few that they can be counted without recourse to that simple schoolboy or schoolgirl system of looking up at the ceiling and numbering them upon the fingers.

If by Free Trade Free Imports are meant, that is quite a different matter; but Free Trade in England is not a material fact but an economic abstraction. It is dead as an Egyptian mummy. We have never had Free Trade in Canada, although twenty-five or thirty years ago Sir Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the Canadian Liberal party, declared that "Free Trade as they have it in England" was the goal of that party. The march of the Liberal Party of Canada towards the ideal of Free Trade has been as slow as the proverbial flow of molasses. We are as far from the goal as ever, although the ideal of Laurier has been the professed ideal of the leader who wears the mantle of that great political prophet. The Free Trade Party of Canada is like a certain creature of the physical world which reverses the usual processes of animals and walks backward instead of forward.

If free imports be accepted as Free Trade, there is complete Free Trade in England and limited Free Trade in Canada; for in England the list of free imports is large, while in Canada the list of free imports is small. But in England the list of free exports is small, and is getting smaller; and in Canada the list of free exports is small and within a month or two it will become very much smaller.

The Free Trader of England is a person of childlike faith. He says that such things simply cannot continue; that all the Protectionist nations of the world must sooner or later be convinced of the errors of their political and economic ways and revert to the true faith. Although his products have been shut out of all the markets of the civilized world and out of the markets of a great part of the world which he considers uncivilized, a Free Trader he was born and a Free Trader he will die. His mind is as impervious to the logic of facts as the mind of the ignorant American was to one of the wonders of animal creation.

The die-hard Canadian Free Trader is not quite as obstinate as his British brother. He professes to be true to his Free Trade principles, but he appears to be willing to make concessions to the tendencies of the times. He is beginning to admit that actual conditions are more potent than abstract theories. In other words, he is recanting, although he may not be repenting. The present condition of his political mind is due to the fact that within a few days he expects to be confronted with a Budget Speech which will admit the tendencies of the times and prove the necessity of protection to Canadian industries. When he reads the Budget Speech he will proceed to justify his abdicated position by saying that as Free Trade appears to be but a dream and impossible of actual realization, we must accept the next best thing, Freer Trade with England.

HANGING IN THE BALANCE

The Canadian Parliament is assembled again for the dispatch of business. The members were given a longer holiday than usual this year ostensibly for the purpose of refreshing their minds and their bodies and attending to their religious duties after a season of strenuous attention to the business of the state. Political scoffers may say that the state would not have suffered greatly if all that has been accomplished for the state thus far were wiped entirely from the slate and this week were the beginning of the session instead of a continuance of a fruitless session. For there are rumors flying through the air that the released members, instead of resting from their political labors and attending to their religious duties during the refreshing recess, devoted most of the time to mending their political fences and preparing for a general election.

The Premier, who has few confidents within the ranks of his own party, or even within the more intimate circles of his Cabinet, but keeps his intentions "under his own hat" and plays the political game entirely "off his own bat," is as dumb as an oyster upon the subject which everybody is discussing, whether the present Parliament shall be permitted to run to the end of its tether or be dissolved almost immediately and the fate of the Government "put to the touch."

Mr. Mackenzie King is quite as reticent about his personal affairs as he is about political matters, and we do not know he has had "a true and only love" worthy of expressions of poetical devotion or whether he considers his deserts small; but there is no question about his deep devotion to office, and we suspect that in this matter of dissolution or sticking to office as long as office will stick to him it is simply a matter of expediency. There are perils in hanging on, for there is a tradition in Canada that a Government which appeals to the country under compulsion faces certain defeat; and there is risk in "taking occasion by the hand," for a black cloud of business depression looms over the country, and the Government has always maintained that it created prosperity, and it may be asked why a government which created prosperity could not avert adversity. Then there is the possibility that if the Premier has not the courage to put the issue to the touch during the present year when conditions are not prosperous, the circumstances may be even worse next year when the evil day cannot be postponed.

Discussing the general situation at Ottawa, Mr. E. C. Buchanan, the gallery correspondent of Toronto Saturday Night, a keen observer and an able writer, says:

Unless the present plans of Mr. King should be abandoned—which, of course, is possible—Parliament will be dissolved soon after the House of Commons reassembles from the Easter recess on April 28. The Budget probably will be delivered the first or second day of May and dissolution should come by the twentieth—probably between the ninth and the sixteenth. This will mean that the election will take place by about the twenty-eighth of July or earlier.

Speculating further upon the possibility of the Government throwing everything overboard and appealing to the country, Mr. Buchanan says:

If the Budget is to be followed by dissolution, Mr. Dunning should be able to display a considerable amount of courage in his offering, since its destination will be the wastebasket rather than the statute books. Measures of protection for the steel industry and even for the fruit and vegetable growers, which are likely to be among its contents, can be the more easily explained away in the West if they die at birth. Friends of the Government are already calling it "an Imperial budget" even before it is produced, and no doubt it will be exploited as such with a view to disguising the increases in the general tariff which Mr. Dunning is compelled to make. These increases will be calculated to gain the favor of the industrial East, while in the West it can be explained that they do not mean greater protection but are only for the purpose of permitting enlargements of the British preference. It is being suggested that the budget will contain a gesture of some kind with respect to restoring the British market to the Canadian wheat growers through special concessions to British coal or other products. At the same time, something may be done to placate the dairy farmers whose grievance in connection with the importation of New Zealand butter engaged the attention of the Commons for nearly two weeks. All in all, it will be a budget designed to appeal to almost every section of the country, from the Cape Breton steel and coal community to the Prairie farmer and the British Columbia dairyman and fruit grower. It will be calculated to gratify protectionists distressed by the heavy adverse balance of trade with the United States and by the impending higher American tariff and to give comfort to the low-tariff elements through its extensions of the British preference.

PREVALENCE OF BALLYHOO

Ballyhoo is not a beautiful word, but it is a very apt word for describing much that is going on in the world today. There is daily ballyhoo about prize fighters, about wrestlers, about baseball players, about golfers and about sports of every kind.

There is even ballyhoo about peace and disarmament conferences. We are told that if the late disarmament has done nothing else for the peace of the world, it has promoted more cordial relations between Great Britain and the United States and removed all possibility of war between those two great English-speaking nations.

As if there ever has been within the compass of many years the slightest possibility of war between Great Britain and the United States. Such a tragedy has been described as "unthinkable," and it was quite as unthinkable before the disarmament conference as it is after the disarmament conference.

There are of course frothy local politicians in the United States who talk lightly about taking the present "auspicious occasion by the hand" and building a navy which will be invincible upon the seas, but such a voice as that is not the voice of sober American public opinion.

There has not been a crisis in the affairs of the two nations since the day when President Cleveland issued a belligerent challenge to Britain on the Venezuelan question, a challenge which was fittingly and diplomatically answered by the late Lord Salisbury.

The international naval misunderstanding which cropped up at Geneva was not the creation of responsible statesmen from either country, but the ballyhoo of an irresponsible lobbyist working in the interests of shipbuilding companies in the United States. The misunderstanding on that matter was removed long before the meeting of the disarmament conference in London.

There will be more ballyhoo when the terms of the disarmament conference are brought up for discussion in the United States Senate, and the discussion will be unusual if some things are not said by some of the Senators that will not increase the cordiality of the relations between the two Powers. The nation which attends strictly to its own business and maintains its independence in affairs which are strictly its own business is the nation that is least likely to have trouble with its neighbors. The United States tariff shortly to be adopted will seriously affect the business of the British Empire, but Great Britain has been more careful than any other Power in refraining from protest or reference to the proposed tariff.

TREES

First on the endless list
Of things I'd like to be—
Could I be anything I wist—
First—friends, I'd be a tree.

A tall pine that would gravely stand—
Knowing the world from an altitude.
Casting my seed on my mother-land
To rear her a loyal multitude.

Or, a slim birch with an argent stem,
Where the hearts of lovers would carven be,
And I'd share their secret trysts with them,
And the silver moon would weep on me.

Or, an apple tree, asway in the field—
Snowing my blossoms—far and near—
And children would come to gather my yield,
And would play in my shade—and would laugh
—and I'd hear.

Or—if I should wish to travel—
To become some tall ship's mast—
And the skeins of the wind unravel—
And be of use—to the last.
—James Terrence McAloon.

RUSSIAN WHEAT IN BRITAIN

Now at this present moment large quantities of Soviet wheat are to be landed in British ports. This wheat is grown by forced labor, under conditions indistinguishable from those of slavery. According to a dispassionate French authority who has inspected the Soviet farms, the grain that is sold for 20s costs 30s to produce. So well is this known on the Continent that the Dutch public has boycotted it and compelled its diversion to our market, where it is being employed by the Soviet to ruin our farming community.—London Daily Mail.

TRAIN MUSIC

What is the song of the sleepers when one leans back tired of reading to look out of the carriage window during a train journey? Most of us can conjure up a meaning in that not quite monotonous rhythm, and even some musicians, it seems. Benno Moiseiwitch is a hardened traveler, but in discussing this on the eve of his departure for South Africa he confessed that he found the rhythm of a train inspiring: it gave him musical ideas. I asked Mark Hambourg also what the effect on him of a train journey was. "Sends me to sleep," was the prompt answer. But Hambourg travels by car whenever he can.—"Chantecleer" in The London Daily Herald.

BLACK BASS SEASON

Sir,—As a member of the fishing commission appointed by the Vancouver Island Fish and Game Association, I would like to call our members' attention to the fact that although the Government authorities solicited our experience and opinion on the matter of a season suiting this province for fresh water black bass, they have either ignored same or have been too lax to change the existing regulation, taken from a Dominion statute, I believe, which is exactly opposite the natural season for these fish in this locality, as it allows fishing during the spawning and prespawning period and closes when the fish are at their best. The official or officials responsible for this condition are certainly neglecting their business and will be responsible for the depletion of this game fish if this foolishly timed season is allowed to continue.

PICCADILY AGAIN

Sir,—If Mr. Nansen had in mind the scene where it showed the saloon and dance hall in the Limehouse district of London, in the British motion picture "Piccadilly," which he referred to as vulgar—he is wrong, entirely wrong. I attended the last night's performance of the picture in Victoria, and I think it was one of the best British pictures shown here yet. There was nothing morally wrong with the picture which any fair-minded person could be against. It was far superior to some of those song and dance pictures which are now being produced in the United States since the advent of the sound and talking equipment.

"Piccadilly" was a specimen of a British picture, well acted, with a good plot and fine photography.

It is my sincere wish that Victoria will take more interest in British-made pictures. If we are British at heart, we would rather have British films, which would expand the growth of the British film industry and promote Empire trade, than to patronize American movies, which are now mostly nothing but trash, fill the United States Treasury, and make the American movie magnates rich. We either will have one or the other. Which do we want?

DESMOND McKENZIE.
1147 Fort Street, Victoria, B.C., April 28, 1930.

"PICCADILLY"

Sir,—If the film "Piccadilly" is a sample of what British producers are turning out, by all means let us have American.

The photography was excellent, and the players, with one exception, well cast; and, in this respect showed a marked advance on any British pictures previously shown in this city. It seems, therefore, all the more deplorable that so much artistic effort, care and money should have been squandered on such squalid material. Had an American film company presented so sordid a picture of London life—the barroom episodes for example—it would not have passed their own censors, to say nothing of ours. A great deal has been written and said on the subject of the "suggestive" films which emanate from the Hollywood studios, but even the much-maligned underworld pictures are treated with a discretion that is noticeably lacking in this British production.

Australia has just registered her disapproval of the British films submitted to that country, the percentage of cutting necessary from the censor's point of view being larger than in any American or foreign film. This lack of discrimination places the Mother Country in a humiliating position by forcing her to accept public reproof from one of her own offspring. On the other hand, we hear that American censorship is to be more strictly enforced in the talking pictures, so those who have feared contamination from this source can now breathe freely.

SITUATION IN INDIA

Sir,—It seems unfortunate that such alarmist news items as those in today's issue of The Colonist should be published, as they tend to give your many readers an altogether wrong impression of what is taking place in India today.

Having served over fifteen years in different stations in India, I have some slight knowledge of the conditions there, and should be glad if you would allow me to make a few remarks on the subject.

As regards the aspirations of Gandhi and his followers, I would wish to point out that these politician extremists are a mere 2 or 3 per cent of the people of India and represent no one but themselves. They, and what they stand for, are loathed by most of the Mohammedans and martial races, while the vast majority of the inhabitants of India, 80 per cent being tillers of the soil, wish only for honest, orderly administration, such as they have enjoyed in the past under British rule, and which they are well aware they would never obtain under Brahmin domination.

The population of India is as large as that of all Europe, with the exception of Russia; the contrasts of races, creeds and systems are more numerous than in Europe; the antagonisms of religion and breed more vehement. Nothing but British rule creates the appearance of unity.

It is understood that "dominion status" is the ultimate goal as regards the external relations of India, but two factors are plain. Islam is the Ulster of India. Never will the Moslems accept in any shape or form the rule of a Hindu majority. Again, the native princes, they representing ancient dynasties, are ready now to make some regular connection with the democratic idea, but not for a single moment do they dream of being dethroned by it. Also, from their mountains, Nepal and the Northwest tribesmen look down upon the plains and know what they will do if the British Raj becomes the mere shadow of a name.

The statement in a Chicago paper, quoted by you, that the whole of the Northwest frontier is in a state of serious unrest, is greatly exaggerated, as the only place affected is Peshawar. I was stationed there myself some years ago, before the war, and remember that disturbances were frequently occurring there, as the inhabitants of the bazaar, whose chief trade is fighting, were always ready to create a riot on the slightest pretext.

None of the mobs appear to be armed with anything more serious than iron-bound clubs, and no revolvers seem to have been used.

The statement, in the same paper, that if the situation does not improve within a reasonably short period, the British will be confronted with a general uprising in India, far more serious than the mutiny of 1857, is positively ridiculous, as it must be remembered that the mutiny was caused by well-armed troops and not by the civil population.

would remind you of derelict clergymen, but, now that you do see us, you see that we are very much like other people.

REPRESENT 10,000 BOYS

"We of this party come from sixteen different schools, and represent 10,000 boys, every one of whom is cast in a slightly different mould. But, in spite of all our differences, we have certain fundamental points in common.

"In Canada, a public school generally applies to a state school, giving an elementary education to pupils below the age of twelve years. In England a public school, as has been rather cynically said of the Ritz Hotel, is 'open to those who can afford it,' and the most important years in the lives of our public school boys are those between the ages of sixteen to eighteen or nineteen.

"These things, however, are only externals, which, when all is said and done, do not count for very much. It has been very truly said that it is the things which one doesn't see on the surface that really matter in the British public school system.

"Tradition and freedom are things which, while not necessarily peculiar to the public school, are nevertheless characteristic of it. This applies to the newer schools, no less than to the old, just as you gentlemen of Canada have the traditions of the British race behind you.

"We are immensely proud of our freedom. We do not consider it necessary to have a master in continual supervision of the boys, as is the case with schools upon the continent of Europe. One of the most pleasing tributes that I have ever heard paid to the system was that it did not seem possible for boys to have so much freedom, and to abuse it so little. It is this tradition of freedom that gives us our sense of loyalty and our continuity."

FAMOUS TRADITIONS

Mr. Fletcher cited two of the many traditions which are peculiar to Charterhouse. One was the ceremony of "adsum," which is the school's name for roll-call, and has been immortalized by Thackeray, himself an old Carthusian, in the death of Colonel Newcombe.

Brooke Hall, he continued, was the name given to the masters' common-room, and had an interesting story. In the days of the Commonwealth, the headmaster of Charterhouse was a certain Robert Brooke, who threatened to thrash any boy who showed sympathy for the Cromwellian party. Cromwell, hearing of this, promptly removed him from the school, but, upon the restoration of the second Charles, Mr. Brooke was given rooms at the Charterhouse, which afterwards became used as a common-room for masters.

"Here 'in Canada,'" went on the speaker, "I like to think of the sentiments expressed by a Cambridge don of ninety-six years of age, who, upon being asked to write his reminiscences, said that he was only interested in the future.

"The past belongs to Canada, just as it belongs to England; and we like to think that the future belongs to England, just as it belongs to Canada.

"I went to school at Rossall, I was assistant master at Rugby, I was headmaster of Marlborough for eight years, and I have been headmaster of Charterhouse for the past nineteen years; and I can assure you that these schools, in common with many others, are united by bonds of freedom, self-government and continuous corporate life, the whole cemented by a common worship.

INDIVIDUAL SELF RESPECT

"The public schools of Great Britain make for individual self-respect, based on corporate loyalty, and we like to think that his school is something of which a boy may always be proud, and that he may always abstain from base and mean actions because he has been there.

"One of the things which strikes me as thoroughly encouraging is the way in which public school traditions had spread throughout the Empire during the past fifty years; and I may add that this tradition is nowhere better exemplified than in the Boy Scout movement.

"It is foolish, and a waste of time to contrast public schools with so-called secondary schools. The more each individual school develops, the better pleased all headmasters will be.

"The verger of the University Church, Oxford, once said that he had listened to university sermons all his life, and was still a Christian. I have lived all my life in public schools, and am still a firm believer in the tradition and freedom which go towards the making up of the public school system."

Mr. D. G. Miller, speaking immediately after Mr. Fletcher, spoke of the ideals which govern the great city day schools in England today.

The Manchester Free Grammar School, he said, had been founded over 400 years ago. "It was built," said Mr. Miller, "by the side of a sparkling stream which is now blackened by the outpourings of a hundred mills. I believe that I am traditionally entitled to the fishing rights, but I have never used them.

"Hugh Oldham was the founder, and he took for his crest the likeness of an owl, which is the school badge today. The greatest name in the school books was that of De Quincey, who, by the way, left surreptitiously after two years of school life.

"I particularly want to disabuse your minds of the conception that literary and academic training preponderates in the schools of England today. That may have been true of our schools a generation ago, and I can remember that my only visit to the science laboratory was when this was reported to be on fire, and was seized by a prefect and made to sit on a leaky section of the fire hose, which I did, bemoaning my fate in general and cursing prefects in particular."

VALUE OF GAMES

Speaking of the value of games, Mr. Miller said that the facilities of city schools might be cramped, but that their enthusiasm was just as strong as that of the country boarding schools.

"Games," he continued, "are not only a means to an end; they are an end in themselves, and are a method by which a boy may express his individuality, just as Ranjitsinhji expressed his individuality with his famous 'leg glide,' and earned the criticism from George Hurst that it was 'an unchristian performance.'"

Among other things, concluded the speaker, the big grammar schools tried to diffuse their standards throughout the homes of our great cities.

Senator Barnard, president of the local branch of the National Council of Education, moved a vote of thanks to the speakers, pointing out that British boys of the right type who came out to Canada were always sure of a warm welcome.

The party left for Vancouver by the afternoon boat, upon the first stage of its return journey to England.

Boards of Trade Protesting Drop Of Survey Work

WINNIPEG, April 28.—Discontinuation of the hydrographic survey on Lake Winnipeg, as announced by Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, for this Summer, has aroused protest from the Associated Boards of Trade of Manitoba. The executive of the board has sent a resolution to the minister asking that the work be continued.

The board asks for determination of possibility of a water rqute through Lake Winnipeg by way of Warren's Landing, Playgreen Lake and Whiskey Jack Portage, and, in addition, asks a photographic survey from Whiskey Jack Portage to the Hudson Bay Railway line to determine possibility of a short rail connection between.

Ruins of Sodom And of Gomorrah Believed Found

JERUSALEM, April 28.—Archaeological discoveries among what are believed to be the ruins of the Biblical cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, in the Jordan Valley, have been reported by the director of excavations for the Pontifical Bible Institute, of Rome.

The discoveries include human skeletons, some of which are said to date from the period of the ruins, old walls, brick ovens, jewels, pottery and subterranean granaries.

The Rhyming Optimist

SOME MEMORIES

Such hosts of things once held most dear
Have passed and left no trace;
Forgotten now the smile and tear
On many a once-loved face.

Forgotten, too, the bygone goals
Which in times past meant all;
Time takes desire with other toils,
Great longings shrink to small.

Familiar lanes and tasks and friends
Are like a tale long-told;
Yet strangely often as day ends,
Still glows some memories' gold.

One hand upon the turning knob,
One footfall down the street.
Long past, still sets the heart a-throb,
Still stirs the pulse's beat.

We keep one look a loved one shared,
Though triumphs come to naught;
Strange, how some memories are snared
Within the web of thoughts!

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist, April 30, 1880)

It is said the Government is not a unit on the proposition to transfer to the Dominion Government the railway lands.

The annual convention of ministers and laymen, held in Wesley Church, was largely attended from all parts of the province. The sessions began on April 23, and ended yesterday. Rev. R. H. Smith, chairman, presided, and Rev. C. Bryant was secretary of the meeting.

An application of the board of delegates of the Fire Department has been received at the City Hall for the southwest corner of the property for a site for the Tiger Engine Company's house.

Paint Your Face From the Inside Out

Don't be content to buy a standardized complexion. Awaken your skin to life and lovelinass with proper care. That rose-leaf tone and texture we all envy just means healthy active cells and tissues and a skin freed of poison by brisk circulation. To overcome an oily condition and to brighten and clarify a sallow, faded complexion, try this three times a week. Get a little peroxine powder from your chemist. Apply hot cloths to the face and then rub gently with the powder, using a rotary motion. Follow with hot and then cold water. Apply a good cream. (We recommend Cerol creme.) This helps to restore that dry, velvety finish to the skin, improves its texture and brings natural color to the cheeks. 4-28

Medical Council Hears in Camera Latimer Charges

VANCOUVER, April 28.—Hearing in camera is proceeding before a committee of the Medical Council, sitting with Judge J. N. Ellis, at the Courthouse here, of a complaint against Dr. Victor E. Latimer of unprofessional conduct, by Charles Oliver. The two parties are well-known residents of Penticton.

The case arises out of an alleged kidnapping and tar and feathers incident in which the victim was Dr. Latimer, and for which Charles Oliver was committed for trial on an assault charge. The case is scheduled to be heard at the Vernon assizes, which opens on June 10.

At the request of the Medical Council the committee ordered the present inquiry to proceed in camera.

The procedure, it was explained, will be for the committee to make a recommendation to the council.

ALPINE CLUB PLAN ANOTHER WEEK-END

Arrangements Already Under Way for Four Days' May Camp—Bonfire Island Inaugurated

Inspired by the success of the recent Easter camp at the Lakes-of-the-Seven-Hills, Sooke Range, when a total of thirty-eight members and guests registered in during the four days with a maximum of twenty-two under canvas on any one night, the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club of Canada is already making plans for a four-days' camp at the Leach River Falls, on Empire Day week-end. The main party will leave Victoria at 9 a.m., on Friday, May 23, by C.N.R. gas train, and camp will not break until the following Monday, although the trip will be so arranged that members who wish to be back in the city on the Monday morning may come out on Sunday evening. Mr. C. L. Harrison, outings convener, will be in personal charge of the expedition.

A new feature of the recent camp at the Lake-of-the-Seven-Hills was the inauguration of Bonfire Island. This island, which is about a hundred feet from the point on the shore where the main camp is situate, has been connected by the mainland by a picturesque rustic bridge, and owing to its isolation and the fact that it is surrounded by water, bonfires can be lighted without hazard to the country round about. The three evening bonfires held last week-end were very jolly occasions, with impromptu programmes which brought out some good talent from among the guests.

Work on the new hut is steadily progressing. The construction is in the hands of Mr. S. W. Baten. The building will be of perpendicularly-placed logs, and the overall measurement of the floor space will be twenty by thirty feet, with an eight-foot verandah. A great stone fireplace is being built. The camp design includes a plan for an open-air table round which the campers will gather for their meals, and it is the intention to have the whole establishment in complete readiness for the ten-days' camp to be held from June 30 to July 9 inclusive, when a sub-camp is to be opened also on Mount Empress

MOON'S SHADE DIMS SUNLIGHT AS IT PASSES

For Several Hours Victorians Are Able to See Eclipse Through Smoked Glasses

LOCAL ASTRONOMERS TAKE PHOTOGRAPHS

For almost three hours yesterday the sun was partially obscured locally by the shadow of the moon, and many Victorians gazed through colored and smoked glasses at the phenomenon. The partial eclipse started about 10 o'clock in the morning and continued until shortly before 1 o'clock in the afternoon, the period of greatest shadow occurring at 12:17 o'clock. At the moment it was raining at Little Saanich Mountain, where Mr. W. E. Harper, assistant director, with Dr. C. S. Beales, also of the observatory staff, were ready to photograph the solar eclipse.

After the eclipse Mr. Harper stated that a number of photographs had been taken before and after the period of greatest density. These were purely of an experimental nature, Mr. Harper added, and it would be some little time before it was determined whether any valuable data had been secured or not. The local astronomers were handicapped by the fact that the eclipse was only of a partial nature here, the rain also interfering at the moment or two of greatest shadow.

During the passing of the moon's shadow over Victoria, a dull light prevailed for a time previous to and following the period of greatest density, gradually brightening till shortly after the noon hour, when the sun had resumed its almost regular Spring brightness.

The central path of totality on this continent commenced about ten miles north of San Francisco, continued through Boise, Idaho; Helena, Montana; Broadview, Sask.; Dauphin, Man.; Lake Winnipeg, Man., striking the eastern shore near the mouth of the Berens River. Farther East it crossed Hudson Bay and Labrador to end in the middle of the North Atlantic.

Viewed in the path of the totality, observers of the phenomenon at the moment of greatest shadow saw the moon pass centrally over the sun's disc, which left a shining circle around its edge when exactly central. The total eclipse lasted 1.3 seconds. Where conditions for photography did not happen to be favorable for that moment and a fraction, several months of preparation were wasted.

NEW BY-LAW INTRODUCED

Measure to Regulate Plumbing and Sewering in City Similar to That of Mainland

COUNCIL TO GET REPORT SHORTLY

A by-law for regulating the installation and maintenance of plumbing and sewering within the city of Victoria, a document containing forty-six typewritten pages, was introduced at last night's meeting of the City Council.

Alderman Robert Smith, a member of the public works committee, told the council that the by-law was similar to the one which was adopted in Vancouver in August last, and which had been prepared by the best sanitary engineers in Canada and the United States.

The speaker stated that the measure was proving most successful in its operation in the Terminal City, and he believed that it should be put into effect in Victoria. He said it has the support of the master plumbers and the plumbers' union.

Alderman Eugene S. Woodward said he would be prepared to leave the by-law to the public works committee to submit a report on it, but thought that the city should have on file a statement from the master plumbers and plumbers' union that the by-law had their approval.

The council decided to refer the by-law to the public works committee for consideration and report.

SAYS! TANLAC WITHOUT EQUAL FOR STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLES

Nurse Gives Remarkable Endorsement

Tanlac may seem miraculous in its action to millions who ended stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as rheumatism, pains in the back, sides, joints and muscles from its use—but the truth is every drop of Tanlac is a strong potent medicine, while most other remedies are weak and ineffective. Mrs. B. Pilcord, a nurse with many years' experience, is one who ought to know. She says, "In ten years active nursing have found Tanlac without an equal as a remedy for stomach and liver troubles, and I can certainly promise people wonderful results in view of my long experience with this medicine. I had stomach troubles for years, could eat scarcely anything without suffering, never any appetite, always nervous and run-down. But as soon as I began Tanlac it started to build me right up. All stomach troubles were routed and never any pain, distress or gases since. Now I eat everything with perfect safety." Many "patent medicines" make glowing promises that may tempt you to buy them, but remember Tanlac is a REAL medicine that backs its claims with a guarantee. Do not accept a substitute. At all druggists. (Advt.)

PRESS ACCLAIMS PRINCE'S ACTION

Heir to Throne Will Launch New Empress of Britain on River Clyde

LONDON, April 28.—Believed to be the first time that a giant passenger liner has been sponsored by the heir to the throne, the recent announcement that the Empress of Britain will be launched by H.R.H. the Prince of Wales has been greeted with great acclaim by the press in all sections of the British Isles.

The Glasgow Herald commented editorially to the effect that it is "a matter of great satisfaction to the people of Scotland that the Prince is coming north to perform this important ceremony. It is peculiarly fitting that the Empress of Britain should be christened by H.R.H. for an indissoluable link between the Clyde and the Dominion has been forged to no small extent through the efforts and example of the Prince."

A tribute is paid in the same paper to the series of fine Canadian ships that have recently been built on the Clyde. In addition to the launching of a pasenger vessel by H.R.H. being unusual, it is remarked upon that quite a departure from precedent has been made in the fact that a lady usually performs the act of sponsorship. The last occasion upon which royalty officiated at a passenger liner's launching was when H.R.H the Duchess of York sponsored the 20,000-ton Canadian Pacific liner that bears her name.

BANDITS GET $4,000

TO RESIDE IN CALIFORNIA

Well-Known Marine Engineer Leaves Victoria After Quarter Century's Residence

CAME HERE FROM PORT OF HONGKONG

Mr. W. G. Winterburn, one of the best known marine engineers on the Pacific Coast, who has made Victoria his home for the past twenty-five years, announces his intention to leave Victoria with his daughter on Sunday, and to join a married daughter, Mrs. Arthur D. Anderson, in Pasadena, Cal., where Mr. and Miss Winterburn will reside in future.

Trained to the sea, Mr. Winterburn has followed his profession in various parts of the world for half a century. He was for many years at sea on vessels engaged in the China seas, and trading with Japan, and also in the Siamese navy. Upwards of twenty years was spent in the Orient and the Straits Settlements, eventually leaving the sea to accept a shore berth as managing director of George Fenwick & Company, at Hongkong.

It was from the Hongkong appointment he came to Victoria, and owing to his long connection with an engineering school, which he conducted here for coaching for examinations, he became widely known to the younger generation of marine engineers, while to the executive shipping men his profession brought him into close contact. Especially was this the case when he was representative of the French Government in the construction of forty wooden ships here and on the Mainland in the years 1919-21. Mr. Winterburn is a member of the Institute of Naval Architects, and a vice-president and life member of the Marine Engineers Institution of London, England.

DANCING PUPILS EARN SUCCESS

Mrs. Gaskill's Art Dancing School Performs to Capacity Audience at Playhouse

Fair dancers to the number of forty, ranging in years from three to seventeen, stepped their dainty ways into the good graces of an appreciative audience that filled every seat in the Playhouse Theatre last night.

The occasion was the seventh annual display by the pupils of the Art Dancing School of Mrs. W. Gaskill. The programme was particularly ambitious in its proportions as well as in the variety of the dance fare offered. There were twenty-eight items in all, one following the other in quick succession, without any unnecessary waits to tax the patience of the audience. Special scenery was provided for the stage setting, the lighting effects were novel and enhanced the changing pictures formed on the stage by the dancers, while appropriate and striking costumes added their attractiveness to the general excellence of the entertainment.

Probably the "impressionistic studies" made the strongest appeal to the audience. These represented a series of etchings, a "Daisy Field," "Willow Tree," "Wooing Hour" and "Evensong," the four pictures necessitating a knowledge of interpretative dancing, which the pupils taking part demonstrated they possessed to a considerable degree.

Other numbers entitled to a little more applause than the others, on account of the artistic way in which they were performed, were: "Moonlight Ballet," a toe dance, with Iris Gaskill in the solo part; the "Wedding of the Paper Dolls"; Miss Gaskill in "Nautch Dance," and the "Coeur De Rose"; Thelma Stratford in "Peach Blossom"; Agnes Kennedy in "A La Camargo," and Patricia Pennock in "Crystal Gazer." Another number, Buddy Stevens and the Polka Dot Girls in a stepdance, "Sidewalks of New York," was very well done considering the age of the youngsters taking part.

At the conclusion of the performance, the accompanist, Mr. W. Gaskill, spent a busy few minutes passing bouquets to the different performers, many of whom were remembered by their friends and admirers.

PREMIER RETURNS

EDMONTON, Alta., April 28. — Premier J. E. Brownlee returned this morning from the Pacific Coast, where he has been on a week's holiday. With the provincial election set for June 19, it is expected that he will issue a manifesto during the next day or two.

How to Stop Food Souring In Stomach

Avoid Sourness and Indigestion

It is gas, formed by fermenting food, that after meals bloats your stomach, causing sourness, heartburn, dullness, uncomfortable fullness and pains of indigestion. Drugs, stomach tonics and artificial digestants fail to give satisfactory relief because they have little or no effect on the stomach acids that have been proved to be the real cause of sour stomach and practically all indigestion. Instead, an absolutely pure antacid or neutralizing agent should be used after meals to neutralize this dangerous acid in the stomach, and undoubtedly nothing could be better or safer for the purpose than Bisurated Magnesia. This you can obtain from any good drug store in either powder or tablets, and in most cases a teaspoonful of the powder, or four tablets taken with a little water after meals will be sufficient to instantly neutralise excessive acidity of the stomach, stop and prevent premature sourish and fermentation of the food, and permit a normal, painless digestion of whatever you have eaten. Try this simple prescription and be delighted with your entire freedom from indigestion. (Advt.)

RONALD HEARNS IS GIVEN TEN DAYS IN JAIL

A sentence of ten days in jail was imposed by Magistrate George Jay yesterday in the city police court on Ronald Hearns, who pleaded guilty to a charge of driving a motor car while intoxicated. In addition to serving the jail term, Hearns will have his driver's licence suspended for two months.

The accused, who was arrested on April 14, following a head-on collision with a street car on Douglas Street, asked the court for a further remand of the case in order that he might pay doctor's bills and other expenditures he had incurred in the accident, but the magistrate denied the request.

His Worship stressed the danger of allowing intoxicated persons to be in charge of motor vehicles and declared they were a public menace.

A fine of $50 was imposed on Charles Cotsford for driving an automobile to the common danger on Quadra Street on April 26. Constable W. Douglas Bone told the court that the accused had driven his car at sixty miles an hour on the road and the machine had swerved around a corner on the wrong side of the street.

JUBILEE PLAN IS ADVANCING

Mr. R. Hayward Chairman of General Committee on Sixtieth Anniversary Celebration

NUMEROUS BODIES ARE INTERESTED

A definite advance in the plans for the celebration in Victoria next year of the diamond jubilee of the entry of British Columbia into the Confederation of Canadian Provinces was made at the meeting held last night at the Sons of England Hall, Broad Street, when Mr. Reginald Hayward was appointed chairman and a committee of ten was struck to proceed with the plans.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. George Jay, chairman of the provisional committee, and representatives were present from about twenty-five of the one hundred or more organizations invited to send delegates. Apart from the brief outline of the objects of the gathering, defined by Mr. Jay, and the nomination of the general committee, little required to be done, and the next move now rests with the nucleus of ten ladies and gentlemen who have been selected to discuss the numerous suggestions concerning the form which the celebration will assume. The officers and committee selected last night are as follows:

Honorary chairman, Mr. George Jay; chairman, Mr. Reginald Hayward; secretary, Mr. Robert H. Hiscocks; committee (with power to add): Mr. Robert McLaughlin, Sons of Canada; Mr. Fred Crowhurst, Saanich Council; Mrs. S. J. Stapledon, Post No. 3, Native Daughters; Mrs. G. H. Gardiner, Canadian Daughters; Mrs. Wilson, Canadian Daughters, Lodge No. 30; Mr. R. D. McLeod, Assembly No. 1, Native Sons; Mr. Lindley Crease, Victoria branch of League of Nations Society; Mr. V. L. Denton, British Columbia Historical Association and Normal School; Mr. John Hosie, Provincial Archivist and president of the Burns Club; Mr. Walter Miles, Kinsmen.

THE CELEBRATION

During the evening a number of tentative suggestions were made as to the character of the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary or diamond jubilee of the union of British Columbia with the Dominion of Canada. It was unanimously agreed that the date for this celebration must be July 20, 1931, this being the sixtieth anniversary, and, as the chairman reminded the meeting, that Victoria, the capital of British Columbia, was the right and proper place for the celebration to take place. For this reason, also, the representation on any committee drawn up to prepare the programme should include Dominion and British Columbia governmental departments or officials, municipal bodies, national, fraternal, social, religious, benevolent and service societies, organizations or clubs.

Among the suggestions offered to the newly-appointed committee for their consideration was one that the Provincial Government be approached and asked to declare July 20, 1931, a public holiday in lieu of May 24, and that the city and neighboring municipalities be urged to assist the celebration by doing everything possible to assemble and organize the children of their respective communities so that they might be incorporated in the arrangements. In this connection Mr. George Jay reminded the meeting that the schools would be closed at that time.

Other suggestions were for a water carnival, a public concert at Beacon Hill Park, a banquet to be followed by old-time dances, a torchlight parade at Beacon Hill.

NATIVE SONS' MOVE

The idea of the Diamond Jubilee celebration was sponsored by the Victoria Post of Native Sons and Native Daughters of British Columbia. The two posts, working under a joint committee, have developed the plan to its present stage, emphasizing the idea that the sixtieth anniversary of British Columbia's entry into Confederation should be made a historic and epochal event. Among the first organizations to which they appealed for support were, fittingly, the B. C. Historical Association, and organizations represented at last night's meeting were as follows: Native Sons of B.C., E. Punkerton; B. C. Government Bureau, W. H. Currie (representing Mr. Bruce McKelvie); Saanich Council, Mr. Fred Crowhurst; Work Point Barracks, Major J. G. Rycroft, R.C.A.; Army and Navy Unit, No. 12, Victoria, Edred E. Hardistry; Veterans of France, S. Petch; Native Sons of Canada, Rod MacLeod; Pro Patria Branch Canadian Legion, M. Davies; St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society, J. C. Sparks, O. Balnave and A. Bain; Elks, R. Lott and A. Paton; Canadian Pensioners' Association, A. Martin; Canadian Daughters' League, Mrs. R. A. Barr; Native Daughters of B.C., Post No. 3, Miss Ettie Neelands; R.C.N., J. Edwards; Native Sons, Prof. V. L. Denton and R. D. McLachlan; Saanich Council, Fred Borden; Canadian Daughters' League, Assembly No. 30, Louise M. Noble; Canadian Pensioners' Association, P. Stoddard; Pythian Sisters, Mrs. A. Manson, Minnie Monk, Daisy Dodd; Purple Star Lodge No. 104, L.O.B.A., Mrs. Edith Ard and Mrs. Agnes Shand; Daughters of St. George No. 83, Mrs. M. E. Quinn, Mrs. N. Muckle, Mrs. G. Appleton; Primrose Lodge Daughters of England, Miss J. Baron, Mrs. E. Bessenden, Mrs. E. L. Skeit; Canadian Pensioners, F. A. Hector Fink, and No. 5 Canadian Daughters League, Mrs. R. H. McInnes, Mrs. A. C. Pike and Mrs. G. H. Gardiner.

there was little to see. The darkness occasioned by the eclipse was of an eerie sort, such as one might expect to find in a graveyard at twilight. Not only darkness but a coolness resulted that brought the mercury down perceptibly.

THERE WAS A HUSH

There was also a hush that may have been partly imaginary, but the usual reports of chickens and birds going to roost were received. In San Francisco, the largest city near the centre of totality, where the sun was 99 per cent obscured, lights were necessary indoors.

As to the scientific aspects of the eclipse reports from Camptonville and other points along the shadow's course where astronomers and photographers had gathered to observe and record the event were optimistic.

Dr. W. W. Campbell, president of the University of California, and as such the head of Lick Observatory, which sent an expedition to Camptonville, said he was certain the effort to obtain clear-cut photographs of the sun were successful.

Early reports told of drizzles and clouds. Later it cleared up and astronomers believed they had obtained perfect photographs.

CLOUDY AT WINNIPEG

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, April 28.—Voluminous grey clouds today blotted from sight the sun's eclipse in the West, and, except at widely separated points, the phenomenon was witnessed by only a few persons. Within the borders of a narrow strip of country extending from Southern Saskatchewan, through Manitoba to Hudson Bay, where the moon completely shut from view the sun's rays, a clear glimpse of the totality was impossible.

IDEAL AT MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Que., April 28.—Conditions were ideal here today for the observation of the solar eclipse according to McGill University Observatory officials.

At 2:10 o'clock, as predicted, the edge of the sun turned to night and an hour later about one-third of a black disc effaced the sun's rays.

The eclipse was readily visible with observatory instruments or through smoked glasses.

OPERA PROGRAMME TO BENEFIT V.O.N.

One of the most discussed musical events of the Spring season is the benefit operatic concert which is to be given at the Shrine Auditorium tomorrow evening by the pupils of Mme. Eva Baird, and the proceeds from which are to be given to the Victorian Order of Nurses. The demand for tickets has been amazing, and, as there are no reserved seats, those who particularly wish to secure a place in the front of the house are advised to be at the hall when the doors open at 8 o'clock. The Victorian Order of Nurses will supply a special staff of ushers.

In addition to her own pupils, Mme. Baird is receiving assistance from the Russian School of Ballet, under Mrs. Dorothy Wilson's direction, and Mr. W. A. Willett will conduct the orchestra. The operatic scenes are to be reproduced with as near an approach to tradition as possible, and to this end Mme. Baird has received valuable help in connection with the scenery and costumes, from Comte Jean de Suzannet and Mr. Sydney Oliver.

The principals in the various scenes will be as follows:

In the scene from "Herediade": Mr. Sydney Chiverall and Miss Lilian Gaulter; scene from "Carmen," Miss Gladys Marchant, Mrs. John Booth and Miss Ida Heyer; scene from "Tannhauser," Miss Jennie Hall and Captain Oliver Hunt; scene from "Werther," Countess J. de Suzannet and Mrs. Sydney Oliver; "Les Contes d'Hoffmann," Miss Bessie Richards and Miss Violet Wilson; "Madame Butterfly," Mrs. D. B. McConnan and Mrs. F. G. Aldous; "Aida," Mrs. John Booth and Miss Beatrice Porter.

In the intermission between the first and second parts of the operatic programme, Mrs. Charles Wilson will sing a Mexican song, "Estrellita," accompanied by a special orchestra under Mrs. Attfield's leadership.

"The New Science of Drugless Healing" will be the subject of a free lecture and demonstration by Professor Robert M. Mobius at the Conservative Hall, Campbell Block, tonight at 8 o'clock. All are invited.

Pianist: "If you are to make that song successful you must sing louder."

Vocalist: "I'm singing as loud as I can. What more can I do?"

Pianist: "Be more enthusiastic. Open your mouth and throw yourself into it."

After Baby Came I Was Weak, Skinny Gained 22 Lbs.

"After baby was born I was very weak, skinny. Since taking Ironized Yeast feel fine. Gained twenty-two pounds."—Mrs. Laura Benoit.

Thousands write new Ironized Yeast adds five to fifteen pounds in three weeks. Ugly hollows fill out. Bony limbs get graceful roundness. Muddy skin gets clear and rosy like magic. Nervousness, indigestion, constipation vanish overnight. Sound sleep, new pep from very first day.

Two great tonics in one—special weight-building malt yeast and strengthening iron. Pleasant little tablets. Far stronger than unmedicated yeast. Results in half the time. No yeasty taste, no gas. So quit being "skinny," tired, unattractive. Get Ironized Yeast from druggist today. Feel great tomorrow. Money back from manufacturer if not delighted with quick results. (Advt.)

Woman Judge To Speak on New Education

Under the auspices of the New Education Fellowship, Mrs. Stuart Jamieson, Juvenile Court judge, Vancouver, and one of the best-known of British Columbia's public women, will give an address this evening at Victoria College, on "New Schools in Old Lands," when she will discuss some of her observations in European educational institutions during her several months' visit these last Summer.

In Europe, within the last few years, have arisen several instances of isolated teachers who developed new vision and new methods of education and carried these out in their schools. Then came the movement to co-ordinate these, and Mrs. Ensor, who was here a few weeks ago, and as the result of whose stimulating addresses on "The New Education," the local branch of the New Education Fellowship has been organized, is one of the principal figures in the movement. Among the schools which Mrs. Jamieson visited, and from which she gathered striking principles along the lines of the new education, where the Hall School at Weybridge, Surrey, of which Miss Gilpin is the head and Sir Michael Sadler one of the directors; the Bakule School of Prague, Czechoslovakia, of which Franzizek Bakule is the head; also the demonstration of eurythmics by M. Jacques-Dalcroze, of Geneva, the "father" of eurythmics.

Auto-Knitting Shown By Blind Woman

For the past week a unique auto knitting demonstration has been conducted at David Spencer, Limited's store. This demonstration will continue till the end of this week. Socks are being made on the auto knitter and the operator of this machine is a totally blind woman. Nine months ago the Western Association for the blind started a machine knitting industry for sightless women. This is the first effort to employ blind women collectively which has ever been put forth in the province. From the first, the women employed showed great adaptability and the business gradually progressed. The work has grown to such an extent that it was found necessary to demonstrate and to sell the articles manufactured in other cities beside Vancouver. The Western association, realizing the need of finding employment for the sightless women of British Columbia, is doing its utmost to get the co-operation of the public.

The writer who has been bold enough to point out that cold baths have gone out of fashion, and that people who boast of never missing a morning "tub" use hot, or at any rate tepid water, might at least have given us the credit of being decidedly more cleanly than our ancestors. A news letter of Queen Elizabeth's times records that the Queen "hath built herself a bath, where she doth bathe herself one a month, whether she doth require it or not."—Liverpool Post

A New Grade of Mobiloil is Offered to Meet Scientifically the Lubrication Problem of Your Car

MOBILOIL "AF"

In the cars listed above, and in certain models of other cars listed in the Mobiloil Chart, we recommend the use of the new Mobiloil "AF"—

Because—it will stand up better under the higher engine temperatures of today's fast driving, and last longer than other oils of the same body.

Because—it has a lubricating value peculiarly suited to the design of your engine.

Because—it is heavier in body than Mobiloil "A" and lighter in body than Mobiloil "BB".

Because—it is made by the makers of the world's leading quality oils.

Because—it is the result of thorough engine and lubrication study by the most experienced staff of lubrication scientists in the world.

Because—it is made by the Vacuum process in the world's most modern lubrication plants.

Because—it is made from the world's finest crudes, selected by the outstanding authorities on scientific lubrication.

Add to the performance of your good car the continued and improved performance only correct lubrication can give it. Go to your Mobiloil dealer today. Let him drain your crankcase and refill it with this outstanding new lubricant.

Uninvited Guests Make Way Into Cathedral

LONDON, April 28.—Hundreds of women stormed Westminster Cathedral during the wedding today of Lady Millicent Taylour, only daughter of the Marquis and Marchioness of Headfort, and Mr. Henry S. Tiarks.

Although precautions were taken to prevent this by issuing cards to guests, the custom in Roman Catholic churches of leaving a side door open for worshippers provided the invaders a means of entry which they quickly spotted.

Bridal Party Seen Leaving Cathedral

MR. AND Mrs. John St. Clair Harvey (nee Tolmie) leaving Christ Church Cathedral after their marriage on Saturday afternoon. The group includes the two bridesmaids, the Misses Clara and Louise Huggins, Mr. Thomas Redpath, the best man, little Hilary Castle, flower girl, and Master John Andrews, the ring-bearer.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

The halter is still playing a part in the trimming of the new frocks. Details of embroidery, fine stitching, hand-drawn work are all delicate refinements of the first frocks of Summer. Even sports models are expressing this theme that has always been the prerogative of femininity.

Illustrating a clever way of handling the dainty idea in a purely sporting manner is the sleeveless dress sketched above. It is of white, flat crepe and features hand-drawn work on the blouse and skirt. The petal collar and jabot are also used with the best fashion authority, while the pleated peplum and skirt flounce remarks the current interest in pleated effects. A colorful note is added by a little cardigan jacket of bright wool crepe, which if slipped on would reveal a scarf collar of white.

Tasty Cheese Straws

Recipe for CHEESE STRAWS

1 cup flour
1 teaspoon Magic Baking Powder
1 tablespoon butter
2 cups grated cheese
A pinch of salt
Cold water

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Rub in butter and cheese. Mix with very cold water. Roll out like pie crust, cut in strips about 5 inches long. Bake in a hot oven till nicely browned.

Here's a delicacy that fairly melts in your mouth.

Tender . . . flaky . . . tempting cheese straws!

Doesn't it make your mouth water just to think about them?

For lunch . . . as a side dish with dinner . . . after the bridge game, or when entertaining, they're equally delightful.

And so easy to make, there's really no reason why you shouldn't serve them often.

But when making them, remember! to get the best results for every baking, always use the kind that 3 out of every 4 Canadian housewives* who bake at home say they use because it gives consistently better baking results.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

This fact was revealed in a recent Dominion-wide investigation.*

If you bake at home send for the New Magic Cook Book. It will provide you with dozens of interesting suggestions to help you with your baking. A copy will be sent free on request.

Look for this mark on every tin. It is our guarantee that Magic Baking Powder does not contain alum or any harmful ingredient.

"Hit the Deck" Is Presented at Dominion in All-Talking Technicolor

"Hit the Deck," Radio Pictures' lavish, all-talking technicolor musical comedy is now at the Dominion Theatre. A cast of fourteen prominent players, headed by Polly Walker, Broadway beauty, and Jack Oakie, sensational comedian, interpret the roles.

No expense or talent was spared to make the screen version the most pretentious offering of the season. A chorus of 200 singers and dancers lend a variety to the screen version that the stage could only suggest.

Luther Reed, who directed "Rio Rita," and Robert Kurrle, responsible for the photography of that sensational hit, again have given their talents in making "Hit the Deck" equally great.

FAMOUS PLAY NOW ON SCREEN

"The Furies" Is Presented at Capitol in Attractive Screen Version

Zoe Akins' sensational play, "The Furies," has been made into a Vitaphone picture by First National, and is now at the Capitol Theatre today and Wednesday.

In screen form, the story follows the play closely, and presents a brilliant depiction of a woman's relations with four men, to each of whom she is bound in some way. It has one of the most astonishing endings seen on the screen in a long time. The climax occurs in a bungalow atop the roof of a New York skyscraper.

The characters all come from New York's upper social strata, but they have been presented in highly unusual and distinctive ways by Director Alan Crosland and a brilliant cast. They breathe realism and are far different from the customary screen types.

Lois Wilson is the centre of the plot and H. B. Warner appears opposite her as a lawyer, who will not permit her to divorce her husband.

VARIETY THEATRE One of the most rollicking, laughable comedies on the modern stage, the three-act farce, "She Loved the Other Man," was received with enthusiasm by last night's audience at the Variety Theatre, where the talented Toby Leitch Players presented it for the first time.

"She Loved the Other Man" is a veritable scream from first to last. Leon Cluff, Phil Keefer and Ruth Albright were a constant source of riotous fun in the three leading comedy parts. Will Marshall and Lorus Bagley were splendid as the rival suitors for the hand of a capricious modern girl, a part played with distinction by Leone Weber.

ROYAL THEATRE The Gordon McLeod Players, having arranged to let the Royal Victoria Theatre to the Arion Society tonight, will not present "Her Temporary Husband," their next offering, until Wednesday night, so there will only be five performances of this side-splitting farce-comedy, which promises to be the funniest play they have given to Victoria audiences, and that is saying a great deal. The cast is in the clever hands of Lilian Christine, Claude Bailey, Gordon McLeod, Margaret St. Barbe-West, Roland Gillett and George Durham. The play is produced by James McGrath.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Laddie, the three-week-old collie pup, who makes his screen debut in "Guilty?" the Columbia all-talking drama, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, has good reason to bear himself proudly in the production. Laddie won his part after keen competition with a very handsome cocker spaniel. Laddie was not only put under contract, but managed to get his young sister in on the job, too. She appears with him in one scene.

COLUMBIA THEATRE It took six weeks for the extra players to get ready for their roles in "The Trail of '98," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's northern film epic, directed by Clarence Brown, which is now being shown at the Columbia Theatre. Practically all this time was taken in growing beards because the men of today are smooth-shaven and the men of a quarter of a century ago, especially the prospectors of the Klondike, were bearded. "The Trail of '98" is a film adaptation of Robert W. Service's story of the Klondike gold rush and the leading roles are taken by Ralph Forbes, Dolores Del Rio, Harry Carey and Karl Dane.

Picture Depicts Perils of Byrd In Antarctic

The peril of Commander Byrd and his party in the South Polar regions is strikingly illustrated in "The Lost Zeppelin." Tiffany's great all-talking special, filled with thrills, and adventure and romance, soon to be shown at the Playhouse Theatre. Conway Tearle, Virginia Valli and Ricardo Cortez are featured in this production.

"The Lost Zeppelin" deals with a huge dirigible which gets to the antarctic regions and is wrecked in a blizzard. All of those in the party but two perish. Through the amusing adventures runs a powerful love story in which the wife of the Zeppelin commander figures.

MAKE STUDY OF OKANAGAN TREES

Dr. H. S. Duffow, Dominion Entomologist, Completes Survey of Fruit Trees

Dr. H. S. Duffow, Dominion entomologist, who is in charge of the work in entomology and bacteriology in Canada under the Department of Agriculture for the Dominion, after spending some time in British Columbia in connection with his work, left last night for the East.

Dr. Duffow spent some days in the Okanagan Valley in connection with his work, and during that time every apple tree in the district was examined to secure information as to the health of the trees. The result has been that the provincial authorities have obtained most valuable information, having a complete survey of the trees in the valley.

The local agricultural authorities co-operated in the work, realizing the tremendous advantages that would follow from such an exhaustive survey. There is now a record of every tree in the district, with the variety and its condition as to diseases which may have attacked it.

The work which has been undertaken is for the purpose of advancing the interests of the export trade in fruit. The British are watching carefully to see that no diseases are introduced into that country by importation of fruit, and the keeping of a clear bill of health for the fruit of the province is calculated to do much in the matter of extending the British trade.

"It is surprising the number of people who cannot write today." But they get their books published. —London Star.

The Story Behind the Play

By J. J. GELLER

"BORIS GODOUNOW"

Those who have ever witnessed the great Russian basso Chaliapin in "Boris Godounow," the dramatic opera of the same name, have undubitably been carried away by his marvelous artistry. So remarkable is his impersonation that he is Boris Godounow. This is all the more exceptional, for it shows that an artist can become so alive to the potentialities of a masterpiece as to extract from it every element of high drama.

In a similar manner, to go back to the seventies, when the opera was finished, its composer, Modeste Moussorgsky, in a letter to a friend, said: "While I was writing the music for 'Boris Godounow,' I was Boris Godounow."

It is the test of any artist to become so intensely rapt in his subject that he thinks, feels and lives through the hidden psychological motives that force human behavior. In Moussorgsky's case he accomplished this feat solely in terms of music.

Let it be acknowledged that long before the Russian composer wrote his opera of that mad Czar who ruled his country at the beginning of the seventeenth century, Boris Godounow served as the subject of an epic poem by Pushkin. It was called to Moussorgsky's attention as a theme for an opera by a professor of Russian history. This suggestion came at a time when money matters troubled Moussorgsky. His own brother's mismanagement of the small estate bequeathed to them jointly by their father had forced him to accept a minor post in the government service. A thorough study of Pushkim's poem and the historical episodes in connection therewith, absorbed the composer, and he feverishly plunged into the writing of a dramatic opera, with Boris Godounow as the central character. From 1868 to 1874 Moussorgsky devoted himself indefatigably to this subject, and at the conclusion Czar Boris emerged as a Russian Macbeth—cunning, clever and treacherous. The composer's music was original: there was no padding with traditional folk tunes.

MOUSSORGSKY
Composer of "Boris Godounow"

In 1870 he made one version of the opera and submitted it to the committee of the Imperial Theatre in Petrograd. The advisory committee of four directors, only one of whom was Russian, rejected the opera: its novelty and the strangeness of the music proved too much for them. Moussorgsky withdrew the score and consoled himself with the knowledge that Pushkin waited six years before his poem was accepted for publication. Thus one discovers that the Russian artists are no different from those of any clime; they, too, must experience the same difficulties before they receive a hearing. However, the composer began revising the score, making slight changes here and there.

He induced a stage manager to try out three scenes at another theatre. But credit for the first complete performance goes to a Mme. Platanova, an operatic songstress whose salon was always crowded with musical dilettanti. Among her friends was the all-powerful director of the Imperial Theatre. She had made a careful examination of the opera, had heard the composer play the music, and at once judged it as a sound and substantial achievement. She espoused Moussorgsky's cause to the chief director, who remained indifferent. Thereupon she refused to renew her contract unless "Boris Godounow" be given a trial at the Imperial Theatre. In the face of the committee's criticism he yielded, and the opera was presented on January 28, 1874, but after a few performances it vanished from the repertoire. The advent of Chaliapin, many years later, helped to resuscitate it, and now "Boris Godounow" has been accepted as a bold, original opera of genuine merit.

ANSWER TO SUNDAY'S PUZZLE

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

UNSPOILING PARENTS

The modern schools of psychology have brought out the statement that bad children are really caused by their parents or early environment. It is unfortunate that few parents seems to have even a rudimentary knowledge of the best way to train children, and training is often attempted in exactly the wrong way. It would seem then that the best way to develop a sweet and obedient child is to first unspoil its parents.

Children are very clever at finding out ways of doing things that are successful from their viewpoint. When a child finds that he can get what he wants by acting mean or by crying, the mother has a very difficult problem. If she can weather the first two or three storms the child will drop that kind of technique and try some other method.

One of the quickest ways of getting a child out of an unpleasant habit is to find out just what he believes he is going to get by that particular mean trick. Sometimes he is crying for attention, other times he wants his own way, and other times he is only bored. He may refuse to eat his dinner, scream at having his face washed, absolutely refuse to do anything he is asked to do. Examine him while he is engaged in these actions, and then cooly and calmly decide just what it is that he is trying to get. Then don't give it to him. For example, if a child is crying for attention, the best method is to ignore him utterly. Quietly put on your hat and coat and explain that you will be back when he stops yelling. Then simply walk out the door. The first two or three treatments of this kind are the hardest because the child then and there begins to scream at the top of his lungs. He does this because he knows from experience that it is the speediest way to make you come running back. If his screaming doesn't bring you, then he will try moaning and sobbing pitifully and calling your name. If this doesn't work he will probably stop crying and after the performance is over often surprise his parents by sweetness and docility. Repeat this each time he cries needlessly, and the time will come when the child will cease to make everyone miserable when he finds out that his being mean doesn't work; he looks for some method that will.

Many people find that instead of giving children an allowance of so much money to spend each week they are better satisfied by paying the child for doing various chores. Even a penny makes quite a difference, and the child who used to take an hour to do a task often snaps into it and has it done very quickly. When the work is well done pay on the spot and not after awhile. He will be pleased with himself when he learns that you are pleased by his quickness. For the first few days let the child spend his money any way that he wishes. In this way he builds up an image of the task until it no longer is unpleasant to him. Then show him that by saving his nickels and pennies he can buy himself a toy which he greatly desires. Before he begins his saving let him pick out what he is going to buy and let him know exactly how much it is going to cost

SORE THROAT COLD ON THE CHEST

If your throat pinches and you find it hard to swallow, that's a sure sign a cold is developing. To delay is dangerous. Inflammation must be drawn out at once. Rub the throat and chest with Nerviline—lots of rubbing will do a lot of good. Nerviline will relieve the tightness—the sore chest and irritable throat will feel better in an hour. Gargle with Nerviline in hot water and you will aid in a quicker recovery. For sore throat, cold in the chest, you can depend upon Nerviline. By using Nerviline when the first symptom of a cold appears you may avoid Tonsilitis, Bronchitis, or other serious ailment.

Col. Hiam Visits Courtenay To Meet Board

COURTENAY, April 26.—Col. T. A. Hiam was welcomed to the district by Mayor McIntyre at the Board of Trade annual meeting and banquet here on Thursday evening. The mayor, in introducing Co. Hiam to the meeting, mentioned the colonel's service overseas with the Royal Engineers, his extensive world-wide travel, and his intimate knowledge of Canada.

Col. Hiam referred to a former request for the establishment of boat service and tourist hotel at Comox as very moderate requests and hoped that the people would insist on much more than that. Sir Henry Thornton, said the speaker, is a tremendous believer in the future in British Columbia. The Canadian National is spending thirty millions in Vancouver in hotel and steamships, and is in British Columbia with both feet. There are estimated to be 30,000 people earning a living as a result of the C.N.R. coming into British Columbia, he said.

Col. Hiam assured the members of the Board that he would do everything possible to co-operate with the Board of Trade, and concluded his remarks by saying that Sir Henry's object in opening offices in Vancouver was to enable him to establish direct communication by means of his representative with himself in the East.

BOARD ELECTS ITS OFFICERS

Support Given to Project for Making Forbidden Plateau Into Park at Courtenay

MR. W. McPHEE NEW PRESIDENT

COURTENAY, April 26.—Col. T. A. Hiam, assistant to the president of the Canadian Railways, was the guest of honor at the Board of Trade's annual meeting held here on Thursday night. The meeting took the form of a most enjoyable supper in the Native Sons' Hall. New members were introduced by Mr. William Douglas in the persons of Messrs. G. W. Stubbs and W. G. Henning. Other new members are Messrs. Howard Piercy and John Isbester, and James Isbester, of Denman Island.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

In his report the retiring president, Mr. P. L. Anderton, gave particulars of activities of the Board during the past year. These resulted in the commencement of the Menzies Bay Road, further dredging of the Courtenay River, the Denman Island Ferry, which is now assured for this year, hard surfacing of the Island Highway, completion of trail into Forbidden Plateau, which was opened by the Lieut.-Governor, and reservation of the Elk Falls at Campbell River and other important improvements in the Comox-Courtenay district. He gave public expression of thanks to Mr. A. W. Neill, M.P., Dr. G. K. MacNaughton, M.P.P., and to Mr. Claude Harrison, of Victoria, for their untiring efforts in the interests in this part of Vancouver Island.

Mr. C. S. Wood, the retiring secretary, then reported with interesting details of the standing of the Board, which the meeting decided to publish locally.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: W. McPhee, president; A. B. Ball, vice-president; Chas. Simms, secretary. Council: J. H. Eakin, Wm. Dickson, H. E. Wallis, G. T. Cofield, C. Felix Thomas, P. L. Anderton, Wm. Douglas, B. Hughes, L. Kirby, G. R. Bates, G. A. Kirk, J. M. Mitchell, J. Inglis, K. C. Wiles, E. T. Searle and C. S. Wood.

Messrs. Theed Pearse, J. N. McLeod and E. L. Macdonald, former presidents of the Board, were unanimously added to the council of the 1930-31 Board.

THE NEW PRESIDENT

Mr. McPhee, in taking over the presidency, eulogized the work of the retiring president and the members of the Board in general. Vice-president A. B. Ball was also heard from.

Col. Villiers, who had attended the first meeting of the Board, declared it was interesting to hear of the accomplishments of the body. He expressed gratitude for the manner in which the Board had taken up the possibilities of the use of pulverized coal. A centralized power station at, say, Nanaimo, he suggested, could successfully compete with hydro-electric power. Mr. E. F. Thomas voiced the suggestion of such a station at Courtenay, if practical.

MINIATURE SWITZERLAND

Mr. A. Leighton, president of the Associated Boards of Vancouver Island, spoke warmly in praise of the work of Mr. C. S. Woods and Mr. Claude Harrison in connection with the opening of the Forbidden Plateau. This area he likened to a miniature Switzerland. The people of Courtenay, he declared, did not realize the value of this wonderland. Permanent snow was to be found at a much lower altitude on Vancouver Island than on the mainland, or in Switzerland, giving the mountaineer exactly the same thrills, and producing the same species of flora as in the higher elevations. The establishment of this Plateau area as a national park was an objective for which all Vancouver Island was working. From Victoria to Campbell River, everyone was agreed on this subject. He gave some interesting details or the work of the Associated Boards and explained the importance of the construction of the West Coast road to Tofino.

COURTENAY, April 28.—A successful bazaar and sale of work and plants was held in the Native Sons' Hall on Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the Women's Institute. Early in the afternoon Mayor Macintre introduced Dr. G. K. MacNaughton, M.P.P., who spoke of the good work of the institute throughout the province.

He congratulated the ladies on the business-like way in which their meetings were conducted and assured them that their endeavors and requests always received the most careful consideration from the Provincial Government. Dr. MacNaughton then presented St. John's first aid certificates to the following: Mrs. Ringrose, Mrs. Vincent Bayly, Miss Agnes Bell, Mrs. E. Watson, Mrs. N. Pritchard, Miss Margaret Galloway, Miss Mabel Dack, Mrs. Selfe, Mrs. Taylor and the Misses Katherine Capes, Marjory Hopkins and Phyllis Capes. FLOWER SHOW IS HELD AT COMOX

Beautiful Spring Blossoms Are on View—Function Opened by Mayor Macintyre

COURTENAY, April 26.—A profusion of beautiful Spring blooms greeted the numerous visitors to the Spring Flower Show at Comox on Wednesday afternoon. The tables in the Community Hall had been well set out so as to display the many entries to the best advantage. At 1.30 o'clock Mayor Macintyre, of Courtenay, in a happy vein, declared the show open. By this time Mr. T. G. Shepherd and his assistant had completed the judging. Competition in nearly all classes and numerous entries in the displays of daffodils, and decorated tables taxed the capacity of the building. Members of the committee including Mrs. Fairbairn, Mr. G. W. Edwards, Mr. Charles Simms and Mr. Tom Stewart, worked hard to make the event a success. During the serving of refrshing tea by the ladies, Mr. McLeod's orchestra provided entertaining music. Towards the end of the afternoon Mayor Macintyre kindly assumed the role of auctioneer, when the sale of blooms and plants realized a neat sum towards the funds of the horticultural branch of the Agricultural Society. A successful dance in the evening helped further to swell receipts.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, April 28.—On Sunday morning Mr. C. W. Lonsdale motored Dr. Cyril Norwood up to Shawnigan Lake School, where they were joined by Mr. Frank Fletcher, Mr. H. Grose-Hodge, Mr. Copeman, one of the governors and Messrs Sterry, Hew Patterson and H. T. Ravenhill. Mr. Frank Fletcher, headmaster of Charterhouse and a past master of Marlborough, read the first lesson; Mr. H. Grose-Hodge, an old Marlburian, and headmaster of Bedford School, read the second lesson, and Dr. Norwood, headmaster of Harrow and past master of Mariborough, preached a sermon which will be always an inspiration to those who were privileged to hear him. The Misses Gordon, of Crofton House School, and Mr. Hugh Savage, of Duncan, were among the congregation. After inspecting the school buildings and grounds and lunching with the school, the party motored to Brentwood College, where Mr. Frank Fletcher preached the sermon in the chapel at 5 p.m., and a number of visitors were hospitably entertained.

Comox Farmers To Hear Plans For Better Market

The move in favor of the establishment of an increased trade with Powell River by the farmers of the Comox District in the matter of vegetables and other lines of produce, is being taken up with enthusiasm. The markets branch of the Department of Agriculture here has now information that a meeting is to be held on Friday, May 2, in Courtenay for the purpose of going into the matter.

This meeting is changed from the original date of May 3, which was originally set. The business men of the district are to take part in the move which is under way and various matters affecting the welfare of the district from the standpoint of production on the farms will be considered.

At this meeting Mr. H. G. Brown of the Victoria Cold Storage and Terminal Warehouse Company, will address the meeting urging the growing of green corn for table consumption, which he hopes to have supplied to the cold storage for freezing purposes under the new approved method of carrying the product.

Mr. W. W. Duncan, markets commissioner, will also address the meeting on aspects of the production for the district and the building up of trade connections.

Mr. J. A. Mooney, of Regina, manager of the World's Grain Fair, which is to be held in that city in 1932, is also to have a place on the programme.

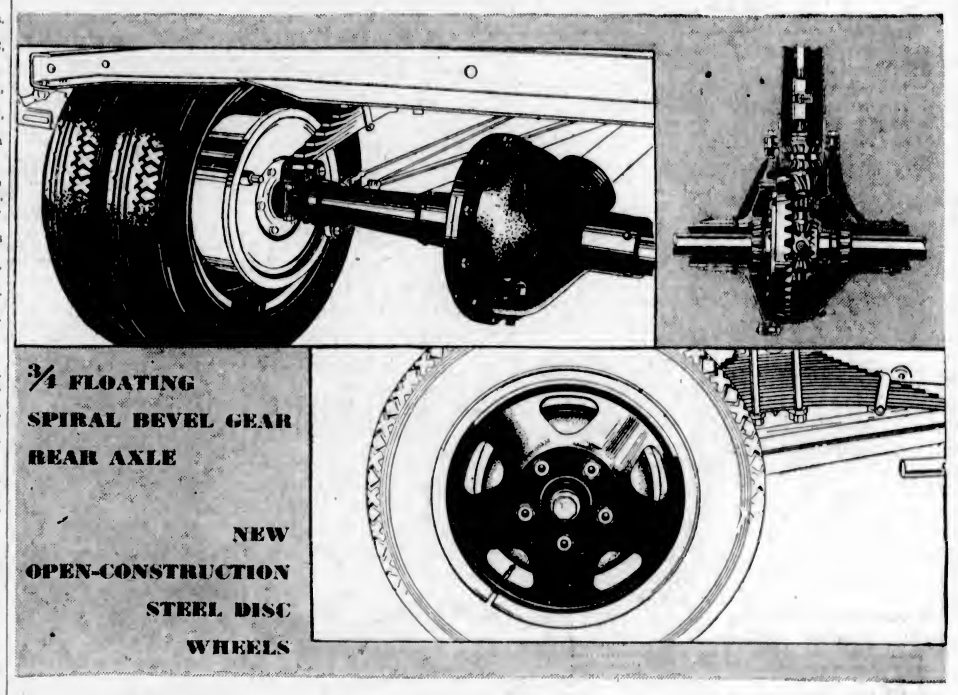
Unusual features increase the value of the

FORD TRUCK



THE FORD 1½-ton truck offers you long, reliable hauling service at remarkably low cost. Many features of the chassis combine to make it a value far above the price. Important among them is the new rear axle, which has a spiral bevel gear of special design, with straddle-mounted pinion. The housing is unusually strong. Because of the three-quarter floating type of construction, the axle shafts serve only to turn the wheels, without carrying any of the weight of truck or load.

The new wheel and tire equipment is a feature which you will find both convenient and economical. Dual rear wheels can be installed at small additional cost. Balloon tires of one size are used throughout with the dual equipment, so that all six wheels and tires are interchangeable all around. Only one spare need be carried. New open-construction steel disc wheels are used.

Brakes on the front wheels have been enlarged to the same size as those on the rear, providing increased braking area and a high degree of safety. Brake-rods assure positive control. A simple and effective adjustment is provided on each wheel.

Other features which add to the value of the Ford truck are the efficient four-cylinder engine, which develops 40-brake horsepower at 2200 r.p.m.; the 4-speed transmission, which gives a wide, flexible range of speed and power; the torque-tube drive, which relieves rear springs of all but their normal function of absorbing shocks; and the sturdier front construction. The front axle is twice as strong as formerly. The front spring is heavier, with more and wider leaves. The front radius-rod is heavier, and king-pins, wheel bearings and thrust bearings are larger.

The Ford truck is available in three distinct types—a speedy, attractive light delivery, a standard 1½-ton truck for general haulage, and a heavy-duty 1½-ton model. Prices are low, in accordance with established Ford policy.

GIANTS' WINNING STREAK FINALLY HALTED

Billy Townsend Wins Close Decision Over Philadelphia Fighter

Vancouver Boy Given Tough Battle by Al Gordon — Albie Davies Decisions Knott—Pastroe Defeats Ainsworth

VANCOUVER, April 28. — Billy Townsend, of Vancouver, took a ten-round decision from Al Gordon, Philadelphia southpaw, in tonight's main event at the Arena here. Townsend, weighing 140 pounds, had a six-pound advantage over his Eastern opponent.

Despite his disadvantage in weight, however, Gordon gave his heavier and younger opponent a good battle. His deceptive and awkward southpaw style had the local boy guessing throughout, and only by virtue of several spirited heavy-punching rallies was Townsend enabled to take the decision.

The Philadelphian was in there all the time and gained a lot of points by his bobbing and weaving tactics, which made his opponent miss on numerous occasions. Townsend was the aggressor at most stages, however, but slow thinking when he had Gordon backed to the corners cost him many opportunities. Several times he had the American wide open and apparently at his mercy, but he appeared undecided just what to do. On these occasions, too, he was wary of Gordon's shifty right hand.

That the decision was rather close was evidenced by the fact that the verdict of the two judges and the referee was not unanimous. Two gave it to Townsend while the third called it a draw. The crowd looked upon the battle with disfavor from the start, calling on the fighters to open up. The last round was the best of the bout, with a lot of slugging taking the place of the long-range tactics used by the pair throughout most of the other rounds.

The best bout of the evening, an event that overshadowed the feature event, was the semi-final between Tommy Jeffers, Tacoma welter, colored, and Joe Townsend, Billy's brother. These two went at it hammer and tong from the start, with first one taking the lead and then the other. It was a good draw, which decision was finally rendered by the judges.

In the preliminary preceding the semi-final, Allan Foston, clever little Vancouver 116-pounder, gave Joe Dalcan, Seattle Filipino, a boxing and punching lesson, and at the end of the bout the visitor was just hanging on.

LOCAL BOYS WIN

Victoria boxers won the first two preliminaries. In the first Danny Pastroe slugged his way to a close decision over George Ainsworth, of Vancouver. Pastroe knocked his opponent down for a count of nine in the first round, with a hefty punch to the stomach, and from then on managed to keep away from Ainsworth, who wanted to box him. Every now and then Pastroe would come through with a couple more pile-driving blows to keep in the running. The winner appeared short on condition, but was long on the heavy punching and lasted long enough to take the decision. They fought at 128 pounds.

In the second bout on the card, Albie Davis outboxed and outgeneraled Jackie Knott, Vancouver, in every round of their four-round set to. Davies showed a world of cleverness and Knott never had a chance. He tried to slug it out with the crafty Victorian but to no avail, for the latter kept him at the proper distance and jabbed him into submission. The boys entered the ring at 126 pounds.

B. FERRIS CHOSEN AS NEW PRESIDENT

G. L. Reid, of the Victoria Lumber Company at Chemainus, captured the Vancouver Island lumbermen's golf championship and the Symonds Saw Company's Cup, emblematic of the title, by heading a field of thirty-one competitors with a net total of 74 on the Nanaimo links, Sunday. Reid checked in with a gross score of 100, which, with his handicap of 26 deducted, gave him his winning total.

F. C. Dillabough, Dave Hurdle, G. Walton, N. English and H. Barnes were bracketed in second place with net scores of 78. Dillabough had the lowest gross of the day with a 90.

Other prize-winners follow: Al Miller, Cameron Lumber Company, hidden holes; F. C. Dillabough, low gross; A. Bearce, of Straits Lumber Company, special prize for most strokes off the tees; W. Pendleton, high net score.

The lumbermen gathered in the coal city Saturday evening and held a dinner and dance at the Malaspina Hotel. Previous to this function, B. Ferris was elected president of the association and C. W. Evans, of Nanaimo, secretary.

On Saturday afternoon, June 7, the Mainland-Island lumbermen's tournament will be played at the Uplands Golf Club. The new Palmer Cup will go to the winner.

From your own experience, what part of a golfer's game do you think is most likely to get "off" frequently?

Answered by
EDDIE LOOS
Former California Open, Shawnee Open, Illinois P.G.A. Open, Missouri State Champion

It is invariably the weakest part of the golfer's game that gets "off."

The strong putter seldom gets "off" on his putting, the fellow who plays a good approach may get "off," but his bad breaks come elsewhere, and the man who shoots a good iron or who plays a good wood may dub a few shots, but he can nearly always get them away fairly well.

It's the part of the game that is weakest that breaks most frequently and most badly, because it is here that the player feels the greatest uncertainty and feels fear when a few shots go wrong.

Professionals fail most on putting, shots to the green and recoveries, while amateurs seem to be weakest on wooden clubs, particularly through the green and shots to the pin.

My advice is—wherever you most frequently find yourself "off" is the part of your game to practice. Getting "off" shows you where your weakness lies.

P. WANER HOLDS BIG SIX LEAD

Pirates' Slugger Has Even .500 Average—Ruth Passes Rogers Hornsby in Race

With pitchers in midseason form, the Big Six of the batting list of the major leagues were forced to step aside yesterday and watch their averages tumble.

Paul Waner maintained his place at the top, but his average dropped to .500 when Charlie Root held him to a single in four times up at Chicago. George Fisher, slugging Cardinal rookie, lost an opportunity to advance on his Pirate rival, going hitless in four times at bat.

Ruth's work consisted of a triple, but it was enough to send him into fifth place ahead of Rogers Hornsby. The standing:

	G	A	B	R	H	Av.
Paul Waner, Pirates	10	38	10	19	19	.500
Fisher, Cardinals	13	48	10	23	23	.479

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Big Tun of Old Heidelberg Castle Holds 53,000 Gallons—The Great Tun of Heidelberg is an enormous wooden cask measuring 36 x 24 feet, which was set up in the cellar of Heidelberg Castle by Kurfurst Karl Phillip. Its capacity is approximately 53,000 gallons, and it was formerly kept full of Rhinewine.

The "Terrible Turk" Ate Twelve Meals a Day—My authority on the "Terrible Turk's" appetite is Mr. Jack Curley, the well-known wrestling promoter. Youssouf Ismael was a wrestler of formidable size and strength. He drowned in the disaster of the "Bourgogne," weighted down by a purse of 50,000 francs in gold, which he won in New York, and which he refused to entrust to a bank.

The Ostrich Can Run Faster Than a Horse—A full-grown ostrich in flight will cover twenty-five feet at a stride, and is capable of a maximum speed of sixty miles an hour for a limited period. It can outdistance the fleetest horse, and even the blooded Arab horses are unable to overtake it.

The Two-Headed Nightingale—Prof. Virchow, the owner of the two-headed nightingale, which could sing with either head, was a celebrated German anthropologist. An account of this curious nightingale can be found in Prof. Virchow's "Vorlesungen uber Pathologie."

OAK BAY CLUB MEET CARDED NEXT SUNDAY

Qualifying Round Date for Victoria Golf Club Championship Is Released by Secretary

ART BEASLEY TO DEFEND HONORS

Another club champion will start the defence of his honors Sunday. The announcement was made yesterday by J. V. Perks, secretary of the Victoria Golf Club, that the qualifying round for the club honors will be held at the sea-bordering layout on May 4. Art Beasley, one of Victoria's strongest southpaws, is the defending champion, and will be among the starters in the medal round.

Beasley carried off the championship and the Harvey Combe Bowl, emblematic of the honors, last year by defeating another great left-hander, Jack Matson, in the final round. With the club's leading players in the tournament some great competition should take place before the monarch for the year is named.

The qualifying round will be over eighteen holes with the first sixteen low scorers forming the championship flight. The defeated eight in the first round of the titular flight will form the first flight. Those failing to get in the select group will be divided into flights of eight each, according to the number of entries. The first round must be completed by May 11, the second by May 18, the semis by May 25, and the finals will be played on June 1. Competitors failing to play their matches on the above dates will be defaulted.

With such well-known golfers as Art Beasley, Jack Matson, Alex. Watson (former city champion), Harold and Dick Wilson, A. V. Price, Alan Taylor, Desmond Barrett and a host of others, some fine golf is expected.

DATES SET FOR CANADIAN HENLEY

HAMILTON, Ont., April 28.—At a special meeting of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen over the week-end with the British Empire game officials, it was decided to hold the Canadian Henley at St. Catharines on August 14, 15 and 16, and a proposal was made to stage the British Empire championship regatta on the following Wednesday here. It was considered advisable to also hold closed championship tests for British Empire entries only.

JOKERS DEFEAT DUNCAN 9 TO 4

Last-Inning Rally Gives Local Club Victory in Exhibition Ball Game at Up-Island Town

DUNCAN, April 28.—The 1930 baseball season opened here Sunday, when the Victoria Jokers defeated Duncan by a score of 9-4. Both teams played snappy ball, and it was anybody's game until the last innings, when a combination of two hits and two errors let in four runs for the visitors. Duncan filled the bags in the last frame, but was unable to improve the situation. Weeks pitched a nice game for the home team. Jokers used four slabmen—Stickney, Holden, Pollard and Donaldson—and two catchers, Downs and Hubbard.

DRAW WILL GIVE BAYS THE TITLE

Midweek Soccer Champions May Be Named at Beacon Hill Tomorrow

With a draw necessary to give them their second straight midweek soccer championship, Hudson's Bay will be at full strength tomorrow afternoon at Beacon Hill, when they oppose Teddy Hawkes' fighting Saanich United eleven. The kick-off is set for 2:45 o'clock.

Last week the departmental store squad held the league-leading sailors to a draw at the Royal Athletic Park, with the consequence that two points still separate first and second berth clubs.

TARRO MIYAKE TO SHOW HERE

Japanese Ju Jitsu Wrestler Will Meet Tom Alley at Tillicum Gymnasium Saturday Night

'MASKED MARVEL' TO OPPOSE THE TURK

Tarro Miyake, former world's ju jitsui wrestling champion, who appeared here about a month ago against Charlie Hansen, Seattle grappler, made such a great showing that many fans asked for a return bout. On Saturday night the Japanese ace will again climb over the ropes at the Tillicum gymnasium to meet Tom Alley, Australian grappler, in the eight-round main event of the Tillicum Athletic Club's wrestling show. Miyake is, without doubt, the most colorful of grapplers and a finished showman. Although over forty years of age, the Nipponese has the speed of the younger members of the wrestling school, a full knowledge of the game, and is in every respect a finished mat man. He will prove capable of giving Alley plenty of opposition.

The semi-wind-up will see Kara Asland Pasha, the Terrible Turk, meeting the "Masked Marvel." Those fans who saw the Turk in action at the Armories, on the Sonnenberg-Kruse card, realize that he knows the mat game. One other bout has yet to be arranged.

NEW YORK, April 28. — Greyola, which carried the silks of Raoul Walsh, movie director, to victory in the Agua, Caliente Derby, March 9, died at Belmont Park today. Walsh purchased the former Rancocas Stable three-year-old filly the day before the race for $15,000, and then sent her out to win the purse for $29,000. She was shipped East following her Derby victory, but soon became ill and never was put in training.

Defeating Dr. Angie McInnes in the final round, seven up and six to play, Jack Watson captured the "B" class club championship of the Uplands Golf Club Sunday. New York Manager Buys Half Interest In "Wildcat" Carter

SEATTLE, April 28. — Walter Friedman, New York boxing manager, who is associated with the Primo Carnera syndicate, today purchased a half interest in Leslie "Wildcat" Carter, clever Everett, Wash., negro junior welterweight. He bought the half contract from Joe Waterman, Seattle boxing manager and promoter.

Friedman will go to Los Angeles soon and attempt to purchase the other half of the contract from Art Hudkins, brother of Ace Hudkins, before returning to New York.

Friedman saw Carter lose a close six-round fight to "Doc" Snell, of Tacoma, last Friday night, but believes the negro will make a "hit" in the East.

Bill Peden and Partner Second In Six-Day Race

MONTREAL, Que., April 28.—The world's champion six-day bicycle rider Van Kempen and his partner, Laporte, by an overwhelming number of points, won Montreal's second international six-day race here Saturday night.

By stealing one lap some twenty-five minutes from the end of the race, Bill Peden and Elder just managed to nose out Crosley and Fielding for second place.

How Will They Finish Next October?

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Tremendous interest is being shown in this contest to pick the position in which the first four teams will finish in both the American and National Leagues.

If you haven't sent in your entry be sure to do so. Those who take it as a foregone conclusion that 100 per cent of the fans are picking the Cubs and Athletics to repeat are in for a little surprise.

There are plenty who like the Browns' pitching staff, and think they have a chance to win their first flag. In the National League the Giants always must be reckoned. McGraw must never be counted out.

The White Sox look to stir up plenty of trouble. Their hitting should be much better and their pitching staff isn't much below the best in the league.

Here is the last chance to vote. Announcement of how the majority of fans think the first four teams will finish in both leagues will be made as soon as the votes are in and counted.

Small Crowd Sees Carnera At Aberdeen

ABERDEEN, Wash., April 28.—Two-thirds of the seats in the Grand Theatre here were occupied by about six hundred fans who paid to see Primo Carnera, Vesuvius of the ring, fuming and pawing around with a couple of sparring partners in an exhibition of four rounds.

The pair who stood up with him were Jack Silver, Portland, and Tom Moore, Los Angeles, only 180 and 175 pounds, respectively, but no one was hurt.

Eddie Herman, of Aberdeen, won a six-round decision over Cy Chafer, Tacoma. Both weighed 140 pounds.

OLYMPIC SWIM TRIALS TO BE HELD IN CITY

Canadian Association Decides to Divide Eliminations Between Victoria and Vancouver

B.C. GIVEN TWO TITLE EVENTS

MONTREAL, April 28. — The Canadian Amateur Swimming Association of Canada will not affiliate with the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. A motion, made by R. C. Wood, Ontario branch, seconded by A. Lawndes, of the same division, urging affiliation with the A.A.U. of C. was withdrawn after lengthy discussion at the twenty-first annual meeting of the C.A.S.A. here Saturday.

An air of amicability prevailed. Attending the session were H. E. Herschorn, president; J. E. Simard, secretary-treasurer; Vicent G. Dunn, British Columbia; Mr. Smalley, R. S. Stevenson and R. Collins, Alberta; A. Lawndes and R. C. Woods, Ontario; C. H. Goulden (proxy), Halifax; Wallace Ceaven and Pat Earl, Quebec.

A successful year's activity was the record shown by the report of the secretary-treasurer, J. E. Simard, as attested by a favorable balance of $126.

The swimming trials for the 1932 Olympics, to be held in British Columbia, will be divided between Victoria and Vancouver. That inland swimmers will not be incommoded by salt water tanks, the Coast tanks where the tests will be, held will be drained and the salt water replaced by fresh. This was the statement of Vincent Dunn, representative from the West Coast. His report showed a weakness financially, but despite this that swimming was a popular sport in the Far West.

Delegate Smalley, from Alberta, stated that his province lacked proper facilities; that Calgary, in particular, suffered in this respect, and that although Edmonton had three pools they could not be used in cold weather.

Discussion of the forthcoming trials for the British Empire Games at Hamilton was lengthy. Ontario representatives carried their point in asking that the trials be held at Sunnyside Beach, Toronto, where spectators can be accommodated and gate receipts obtained to take care of the expense of paying transportation of swimmers to the trials.

On account of the cost of bringing swimmers from the West, it was decided to appoint Vincent Dunn and representatives from Ontario and Quebec to select such swimmers in the West.

With considerable juggling in events to satisfy everyone in the allotment of Canadian indoor and outdoor championships the necessary allotments were arranged. The championships awarded the West are as follows:

Alberta—Fifty yards freestyle for men, outdoor; 220 yards freestyle, men, outdoor; 50 yards freestyle, women, outdoor.

Carnera's Scheduled Show Here on Saturday Definitely Off

WRANGLING between the managers of the giant Italian, Primo Carnera, has forced an abandonment of the show billed here for the Armories next Saturday night, according to word received by Promoter Billy Davies, who was staging the show. It appears that one of the "Ambling Alp's" bosses had made the plans without consulting any of the other managers and that other plans had interfered which resulted in a cancellation of the exhibition. Hundreds of Victorians will learn with regret of this announcement. Davies hopes to bring the "man mountain" here at a later date.

KENNEL CLUB TO HOLD BIG SHOW

Armories Secured for Bench Show to Be Held by Local Officials on May 17

The Victoria City Kennel Club has again been fortunate in securing the Armories on Bay Street for its show on May 17. This will be good news to prospective exhibitors, as without a doubt it is the most suitable building for staging such an event in Western Canada, as it is free from draughts, which is the great enemy of dogs. It is light and airy, and there is ample room for exercising without going outside and, above all, free from dampness.

Since the official announcement of the show, many inquiries have been received and also entries. Perhaps the most outstanding entry received to date is that of an English bulldog owned by a fiancier in Portland. This dog is already an English and American champion, and will make his debut to the Canadian public at this show and also a big bid for his triple championship; his latest win being "best of all breeds" at Tacoma. He is considered to be about as near to perfection as any dog of his breed today, and without a doubt he will be well in the running for the handsome silver cup donated by Alex. McCloy for the best dog in the show from the U.S.A. The Canadian Kennel Club has donated a beautiful silver cup to be awarded the best Canadian-bred in the show, and Sir Frank Barnard has donated a handsome cup to be awarded the "best of all breeds" in the show.

The premium lists and entry forms, totaling 750 of each, are already in the mail; and it is hoped by May 9, which is the closing date for entries, the greater part of these will have been returned accompanied by the entry fees.

Rare Baseball Feat Credited To Buc Clancy

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—When Bug Clancy, Chicago White Sox first baseman, went through the entire nine innings of yesterday's game here with St. Louis without having a putout or an assist, there occurred the rarest feats in baseball. Only twice before in major league history has this freakish occurrence taken place, and both times it happened back in the dawning days of modern baseball.

Thirty-nine years ago, on August 6, 1891, McCauley, playing first base for Washington, went through nine innings without a chance. Four years earlier, October 9, 1887, Hecker, of Louisville, played a full game at the initial bag without a putout or an assist.

There have been several instances in the major leagues, however, of a first baseman going through a game with no putouts but with at least one assist to give him a numeral in the fielding column.

ROAD RACE WILL BE HELD MAY 24

Pro Patria Branch to Sponsor Second Annual Event—Entries Will Close on May 24

The second annual Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., road race will be held Saturday, May 24. The starting point will be from the front of the club quarters, 625 Courtney Street, with the first runners getting away at 9 o'clock. Two events, one for juniors and one for seniors, will be conducted.

Last year fifteen competitors faced Chief of Police John Fry, the official starter. Ten were juniors and five seniors. The Pro Patria Branch Cup for the senior event went to George Lewis, North Vancouver; while the David Spencer, Ltd., trophy for the younger runners was won by George Williamson, Port Alberni. Both of last year's winners are expected to compete again this year.

Intending competitors may secure further information by applying to H. P. Thorpe, secretary of the club, at 625 Courtney Street. All senior runners must have this year's amateur cards. Under eighteen is the age for juniors. Entries will close at 5 o'clock, May 22.

Tommy Loughran Loses Decision To Ernie Schaaf

PHILADELPHIA, April 28. — Ernie Schaaf, Boston sailor boy, won the referee's decision over Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, former light-heavyweight champion, in a ten-round bout at the Arena tonight. Schaaf weighed 200 pounds and Loughran 189. Tonight's battle was a renewal of one started in Boston a year ago, when Loughran, then a king of the light-heavyweights, won a decision over the twenty-one-year-old navy graduate. Schaaf, with an additional year's experience, was a greatly improved fighter. Loughran displayed better boxing skill but the Boston gob had an authoritative punch in either hand.

HOW MUCH TOBACCO HAS THIS MAN SMOKED?

We heard of a man the other day who had smoked the same brand of pipe tobacco for 37 years. That's consistency for you and a fine tribute to that particular brand. What we mean is that pipe smokers are great stickers. So it's all the more remarkable that Wakefield Tobacco has, in such a short space of time, and entirely on it's own merits, gained such a big sale. The only advertising it has had heretofore has been "word of mouth," or perhaps we might say "word of pipe." Try Wakefield some day.

DAVIS CUP TRIALS TO OPEN TODAY

Canadian Candidates for Team to Meet United States in First Round to Show Wares

RAINVILLE SHOWS GREAT IMPROVEMENT

TORONTO, April 28.—Two candidates for Canada's Davis Cup team, Willard Corcker, ranking second in the Dominion, and Marcel Rainville, ranking seventh, arrived here today from Montreal for the official trials, which will be held on the Toronto Tennis Club courts during the remainder of the week.

Both players had a spirited workout today, with Crocker displaying brilliant form. His service was uncannily true, and in every other department he was at the height of his form. Rainville also showed he had benefitted greatly by his sojourn in the Southern States. In competitive play across the border Rainville won several sets from players ranked among the first ten in the United States.

Dr. J. Wright, of Montreal; Gilbert Nunns, Toronto, first and third in the rankings, will be here, although both players have definitely been selected as members of the team. Leroy Rennie, Toronto, and W. Martin, Regina, are the other candidates who will bid for a place on the team.

In the opening singles tomorrow Crocker will oppose Rennie, while Rainville will engage Martin in the second test. Later in the afternoon Crocker and Wright play Nunns and Martin in the doubles.

Mainland Racing Body Desires to Submit an Offer

THE Vancouver Thoroughbred Association, Limited, asked the City Council last night for the opportunity of submitting an offer to lease before any final decision was reached with respect to the racing concession at the Willows Park. The council decided to lay the communication on the table until a report was received from the British Columbia Agricultural Association on the offer of the Colwood Park Association to expend $30,000 in building a new grandstand, racetrack, etc., at the Willows, provided the city would grant it a racing concession for a further ten years, in addition to the two years of the unexpired present lease.

MRS. PHILBRICK WINS MEDAL AT COLWOOD CLUB

Defending Champion Heads Large Field in Qualifying Test by Single Stroke

DRAW FOR TODAY'S MATCHES RELEASED

Mrs. Philbrick, who holds every major golf title in the city, started off in the defence of her Colwood championship yesterday by winning the medal honors in the qualifying test with a fine 93, one stroke in front of Mrs. Hew Patterson. Although course conditions were excellent, a heavy wind prevailed and scores were much higher than usual, with 113 or better getting into the select group.

All the favorites made the championship group, but only four of the competitors were able to break the century mark, they being Mrs. Philbrick, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Hutchinson and Mrs. Parry. Mrs. Wilding, a former champion, used up 100 strokes on the difficult layout, her failure to solve the tricky greens adding a number of strokes to her card.

Match play will start today. Mrs. Philbrick will hook up with Mrs. C. E. Wilson, while Mrs. Patterson, second in the qualifying list, will have Mrs. Gillespie as an opponent. Mrs. Wilding will meet Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Parry will tackle Mrs. Richardson. Mrs. Hutchinson, another strong player, will have Mrs. Carew Martin to contend with.

STRANGLER LEWIS WINS FROM McGILL

Former Heavyweight Wrestling Champion Scores One Fall Over Vancouver Man

SEATTLE, April 28.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, scored a one-fall decision over Pat McGill, of Vancouver, B.C., in an eight-round match here tonight. The grapplers battled on about even terms until the eighth round, when Lewis downed McGill with a series of headlocks.

Ted Thye, Portland light-heavyweight, won over Harry Demetral, of Chicago, in the semi-final. He scored a fall in the fourth with a series of headlocks and Demetral was unable to return for the fifth. Bud Anderson, of Renton, and Des Anderson, Salem, Oer., light-heavyweights, drew in the opener. Neither grappler scored a fall.

NANAIMO JUNIORS DEFEAT SAINTS

Southend Shows Class in Whipping Strong Vancouver Eleven Three Goals to One

NANAIMO, April 28.—Demonstrating their ability to enter the senior football company, the Southend junior football team defeated St. Saviour's of Vancouver here Sunday afternoon before 1,500 people by three goals to two. The local team was leading 3-1, with two minutes to go, when Steel, for Southend, tripped within the penalty area, and Cook, for the Saints, converted.

The game was hard fought throughout and both teams played brilliant football. Southend had the play for the first ten minutes, when White, centre forward, scored from the rebound of the fourth of a succession of shots pounded at the Vancouver goalie. The Saints forced the play for the balance of the first period, but were unable to break Nanaimo's defence, but they tallied in the first period when Slaughter, Nanaimo's goalie, left the goal wide open, and Bradbury, for the visitors, scored on a long floating shot after thirty-five minutes of play, the first period ending 1-1.

The entire second half was about evenly divided, first one goal being in danger, then the other.

With thirty minutes of play gone, Grey, for Nanaimo, crossed a dangerous one before the net, and Dave Purss, for the Saints, miscued the clearing kick, the ball spinning between his own goal posts, giving Southend the lead 2-1. Twelve minutes later Southern scored the local's third goal. Saints rallied and were pressing hard when Steel tripped a forward who would have been through and Referee Gunniss awarded a penalty which Cook converted.

The teams:

St. Saviour's—Goal, Henry; backs, Constable and Walters; halves, Cawker, Hogg and West; forwards, Purss, Bradbury, Cook, McDonald and Ashton.

Southend—Goal, Slaughter; backs, Steele and Crawl; halves, Thompson, Boyd and Waugh; forwards, R. Grey, Southern, White, G. Grey and Sandland.

MOOSE CELEBRATE KLONDIKE NIGHT

NANAIMO, April 26.—"Klondyke Night," staged by Wellington Moose, in Pleasant Valley Hall, Friday evening, was a huge success from every point of view. The hall was packed to overflowing. A feature of the evening's amusement was the holding of a mock court, over which Brother A. A. Davis was presiding judge. Sheriff Billie Fulton, with a huge revolver on his hip, assisted by wee Harry Hill, made all arrests and laid the charges. Several charges were laid and all were successfully prosecuted, so that the funds of the court were greatly enriched. However, such was the vigilance of Big Billie and Wee Harry that there was no bloodshed.

The only prospector to strike gold was T. Stephenson, and he was protected by the "law" until he sailed for the "outside."

Hot dogs, beans and salt pork were enjoyed and a successful and pleasant evening's entertainment was brought to a close by dancing, a city orchestra supplying the music.

FINE DISPLAY OF TULIPS MADE

ANNUAL SPRING SHOW OF SHAWNIGAN FARMERS' INSTITUTE HELD

Mr. E. M. Straight Acts as Judge of Flower Exhibits—Many Entries

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, April 28.—Through the kindness of Mr. C. W. Lonsdale, headmaster of the Shawnigan Lake School, the sixth annual Spring show of the Shawnigan Farmers' Institute was held in the spacious gymnasium on Saturday afternoon. The date suited the season for tulips and narcissi to a nicety, though somewhat early for other Spring flowers. The size of the building made the exhibit look small compared with previous years, though the entries, 106, were well up to the average. The decorative classes, for the reason alluded to, were not so numerous, but the display of tulips was gorgeous, and the narcissi were not far behind. The division allotted to women's work was very poorly filled and it may become a question whether this shall be retained in future. The ice cream stall, which had invested in six gallons of ice cream, was completely sold out before 4 o'clock. This was in charge of Mrs. Oldham, Mrs. Cheeke and Mrs. F. T. Elford, assisted by Mrs. George Taggart and Miss Doris Roberts. Miss Davidson had a general stall and various sideshows. She was helped by Mrs. J. N. Hughes, several youthful helpers, and John Oldham, who had charge of the spinning jenny. Their combined receipts amounted to over sixty dollars. The flower judge, Mr. E. M. Straight, was pleased with the excellence of the exhibits. He himself gave a special prize to a cleverly designed table decoration arranged by three of Miss Gildea's pupils, the theme being a miniature rock garden centrepiece, with live goldfish and trees. It was much admired. Mr. Straight also brought over from the Experimental Station a comprehensive display of tulips, narcissi and hyacinths, which attracted much attention, as did some beautiful Bella Donna delphinium blooms from Messrs Hamilton and Charlton, Duncan.

Mrs. J. H. Whittome, Duncan, kindly judged the women's section, and also exhibited in some of the flower classes.

Shot from Guns

125 million food cells exploded

That's what makes Puffed Grains crisp . . . delicious . . . virtually as nourishing as hot cooked cereals

YOU may have wondered why Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are so light and crunchy . . . so meltingly good to eat.

Here's the secret. They are made by an utterly different process from all other ready-to-eat cereals. Grains of wheat and rice are sealed in bronze guns. The guns are revolved in fiery ovens. In this terrific heat the natural grain moisture in each tiny food cell expands into steam.

When the guns are fired, 125 million explosions occur in each grain. Every tiny food cell is completely broken up. (Just as it would be from long hours of cooking.) Hence every particle of food is completely digestible. This is why Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are rated as virtually as nourishing as hot cooked cereals.

When these grains come forth in showers from the guns, they've been puffed to 8 times normal size. They're crisp, fragile, crunchy . . . deliciously good to eat. They taste like sweet new nutmeats. Like fresh buttered popcorn. You'll say you never before dreamed that wheat and rice could be so meltingly good to eat.

Don't neglect to give your family this more delicious . . . more richly nourishing cereal. Order Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice from your grocer today. 5751

QUAKER PUFFED WHEAT AND PUFFED RICE

"I have used yeast for 25 years"

says Head of famous Skin Hospital

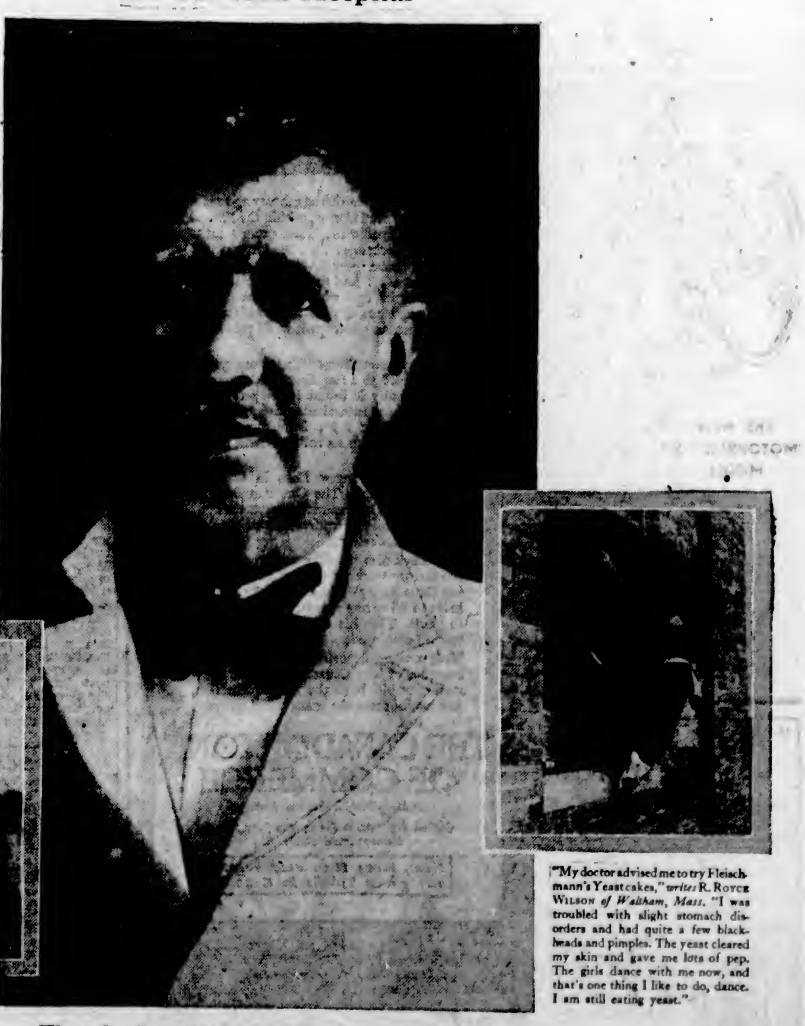
DEAN of all Scandinavian skin specialists is Dr. Johan Almkvist of Stockholm, head of the famous St. Göran Hospital for diseases of the skin and blood.

"For 25 years," says Dr. Almkvist, "I have used yeast for skin troubles, such as acne and boils.

"The effect of yeast against constipation," he adds, "is well-known. By keeping the intestinal tract healthy and clean it prevents a number of poisons from being absorbed into the system.

"Indescribably important for the present-day indoor worker is the vitamin D contained in yeast after irradiation. Its effect is equivalent to that of sunshine itself."

Why not adopt this simple way to clear-skinned, vigorous health? Every day eat 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast. Each cake is rich in two precious vitamins—B and D. At grocers', restaurants, drug stores, soda fountains. Directions on label.



"Wearing evening dresses with gracefulness is impossible when one is afflicted with a disgusting 'breaking out' of the skin," writes Miss Elinor Walsh from Ottawa, Ont. "And who can do justice to herself when half-crazed with a dizzy headache? . . . Naturally I was alarmed . . . I resorted to yeast, and in two weeks my health improved. My skin trouble disappeared, I gained back my color, my self-confidence, energy and a smile."

"My doctor advised me to try Fleischmann's Yeast cakes," writes R. Royce Wilson of Waltham, Mass. "I was troubled with slight stomach disorders and had quite a few blackheads and pimples. The yeast cleared my skin and gave me lots of pep. The girls dance with me now, and that's one thing I like to do, dance. I am still eating yeast."

These leading skin specialists recommend yeast

Spain's foremost skin specialist, Dr. José Sánchez-Covisa, says, "Skin eruptions are nearly always accompanied by constipation. Yeast reduces intestinal putrefaction and is of great aid in treating these skin affections."

Professor Dr. Pio Pedigoni, head of important skin hospital in Rome, declares, "Yeast keeps the system 'regular.' For many years it has been used in dermatology to prevent and cure pimples and boils."

Fleischmann's Yeast is made in Canada by Canadians

Headlong Drop in Prices At N.Y. Trading Gaining Impetus in Closing Hour

NEW YORK, April 28. — The stock market began the new week with a headlong decline today, the most abrupt since last December. The price index of ninety leading shares lost nearly 5 points, compared to a drop of 6 1-2 on December 20. Selling was fairly orderly until the last hour, when more than 1,800,000 shares were traded. The day's total sales aggregated 4,852,190 shares.

Publication of the survey of conditions by Chairman Barnes, of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, while strengthening Wall Street's confidence in gradual business improvement, failed to rekindle speculative enthusiasm.

Liquidation embraced practically all groups. A few of the oils and utilities were in demand for a time, such issues as Standards of New York and New Jersey and United Corporation selling up slightly to new 1930 peaks. Rails were particularly heavy.

Shares declining to 10 points included Allied Chemical, American and Foriegn Power, American Tobacco "B," Atchison, Auburn, Eastman Kodak, Houston Oil, Johns Manville, Public Service of New Jersey, Union Pacific, Westinghouse Electric and Vanadium. J. E. Case dropped 18 points and Ingersoll Rand, 12.

U.S. Steel and General Electric lost 3 points, and Radio and American Telephone more than 4. Several of the copper, railroad, railroad equipment, motor and motor accessories shares reached new lows for the year.

Call money was a little firmer, holding at 4 per cent. Foreign exchanges were fairly steady, although sterling cables ruled 1-32 lower at 4.86 1-4.

The bond market was soggy. Heaviness of the convertibles in sympathy with declining stock prices and the absence of any appreciable demand for investment securities of more conservative types, combined to give the last and easier tone.

MARKET DAY OF MIXED MOVEMENT

Reactionary Forces Culminate in Late Hour in Free Selling—Oils Strong Early

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, April 28. — The market today has been one of mixed movements with, however, reactionary forces predominating and culminating during the final hour in rather free selling, which carried down most of the leading trading mediums, so that net losses of from three to four points were quite common. During the earlier part of the day the oils constituted a strong bulkhead, influenced perhaps by natural gas possibilities and the prospect of another increase in the price of crude.

However, with the publication of increased figures for California production, this latter influence was obliterated for the present, and, although the oil stocks resisted well, they lost most of their gains during the final hour. The late selling had for its prominent figure Johns Manville, which broke eight or nine points following the announcement that its Canadian subsidiary had abandoned its expansion programme and was reducing its working force. The selling movement seems to have been engendered by the indifferent business news of late and the standstill of affairs apparently has tired a number of short swing traders carrying lines of stock.

Some relief in the news, however, was afforded by the announcement of an extra dividend of $1 by Ingersoll Rand. Also General Refractories reported a substantial increase in earnings for the first quarter and a 50 per cent increase in unfilled orders as of March 31, 1930. The significance of the company's improvement rests in the fact that it supplies industry, particularly steel mills, with furnace linings and evidently manufacturers are repairing their plants in anticipation of full industrial recovery. Despite the recent irregularities we would keep to the view that the next turn in business affairs is almost certain to be for the better and that profits are most likely to accrue to those adhering to the long side.

Lower First Then a Rally Says Whitney

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, April 28.—Whitney, of Wall Street Financial Bureau, says: It takes something like today's market to convince the speculative community that the market is really engaged in reaction, a statement which has been emphasized here for two solid weeks. At the close of last week the industrial averages had recorded a loss of 9 points, and the rails 8 points from the top recorded in the week, which you were advised was the top of the first phase of the 1930 market. The movement has now been extended to a point where the reaction of the industrial group is approximately 15 points, and the reaction in the rails 10.

I don't believe that we have witnessed the end of the decline, all indications pointing to an additional decline tomorrow, followed by a rally in the afternoon and extending for the better part of Wednesday with renewed reaction developing thereafter, and the movement not culminating until the industrial averages have recorded a price of approximately 272 and the rails approximately 145. When these levels have been recorded, it will be time enough to again assume a generally bullish position, such as was assumed here in December of last year, and was abandoned around the middle of this month.

The advance of the oil group is developing precisely as expected, periods of strength in the general market resulting in new high records for the year in the oil group, with periods of reaction in the general market bringing only moderate retracement from the new records recorded. I look for this performance to continue, and consequently recommend the purchase of previously mentioned oil stocks in the first two hours of tomorrow's session, anticipating that before the end of the day the new advance in crude oil prices will be officially announced, bringing new high records for the oil stocks in the next forty-eight hours.

Standard Oil of New Jersey is still the undisputed leader with buying recommendation continued to use a price under 85 for its purchase. After the establishment of a new high for the year, Gulf Oil has reacted so that it is again available under 165, below which figure you are advised to buy it. Under 75 is the opportunity to buy Standard Oil of California, which for those who like hidden assets this company presents the following: Holdings in Kettleman are carried on the books at $7 an acre, the valuation given the proven acreage in this district by conservative oil experts is between $50,000 and $100,000 an acre. Using the lower valuation figure here is a hidden asset of close to $270,000,000. American Maracaibo has likewise recorded a new top for the year. Considering the fact that the bunkers of the company paid more than $1 a share above current prices for the stock last year, believe you are warranted now in paying as much as they did then, which was $5.

This kind of "SALE" is usually a fraud.

Always going out of business: never gone.

Unethical merchants sometimes advertise continuous "Going Out of Business" sales and "Sacrifice" sales simply to palm off inferior or cheap goods at comparatively high prices. A sign may be erected covering the greater part of the front of a store, announcing amazing bergains because the store is "going out of business."

Display windows are filled with signs and merchandise, including some articles of quality obviously offered at bargain prices.

Perhaps six months later the sign is still there—and may never be removed except to repaint it. During these six months the merchant disposes of enough stock to refill his store several times. He may have had to restock several times. He has gone into the business of "going out of business," and finds it profitable. For though he may "sell" his windows and shelves with good goods, he becomes an adept at "switching to cheaper material when the customer is in the store.

This practice injures honest storekeepers, who occasionally find it necessary to out on a legitimate bargain sale. However, reputable merchants will accept the reputable merchant's advertising and refuse the chronic sale promoter's misleading statements that he is "selling out" when he has no intention of such action—at least until he sells a half a dozen normal stocks and milks the sale cow dry.

WHEAT MARKET AT WINNIPEG VERY ERRATIC

Opening Loss Quickly Recovered — Market Declines After Upturn Under Close

DEMAND FOR CASH WHEAT FEATURELESS

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, April 28.—The wheat market acted nervous and erratic today, being weak and strong in turns. Prices at the start declined about 1 cent but aided by some moderate seaboard buying, which took the slack out of the market, this opening loss was quickly recovered and later there was excellent buying of October for Chicago account, that was understood to be short covering, with offerings none too liberal, and prices were forced 1 1-4c to 1 5-8c above the close Saturday. Early sellers were forced to cover, however, the upturn was not held, the market again declining under the previous close. There was some further export business over the week-end, which seaboard estimated close to one million bushels.

North American sales since Saturday morning are estimated around three million bushels, most Manitobas, but including 1,000,000 bushels of Americans durums and some hard Winters. Undoubtedly part of the foreign buying of the past week is for May shipment.

There was no feature to the demand for cash wheat, offerings are small and holders are inclined to advance their prices. Lake navigation is expected to be officially opened Tuesday morning. Rains or showers appeared to be more or less general over large areas of the Winter wheat belt, while Alberta again enjoyed good rains and Saskatchewan light showers.

The Canadian visible decreased 2,923,000 bushels. The market again turned strong near the close, but again it was mostly short covering and in sympathy with strength in American markets, and a report from Oklahoma reported not sufficient moisture.

There was very little doing in the coarse grains, both oats and barley being extremely quiet, while rye followed the trend of wheat with a little outside buying in the May. Cash demand very dull. Flax showed no change with nothing of feature going on.

SAFETY IN PUBLIC UTILITIES

No other industry offers so many advantages to the investor. The light, heat and power companies render an indispensable service, so fundamental to modern life that practically all business would cease were these services cut off. Usually such corporations have exclusive franchises. They operate at fixed rates, have no credit problems. Financial fluctuations affect their earnings very little, if any.

There are several good issues of Hydro-Electric Corporations which we can recommend highly.

THE BUILDERS OF CANADA

A LITTLE more than a century ago mankind lived simply, within the limited sphere of handicraft. Then came a series of dramatic changes . . . the introduction of mechanical power, the invention of machines . . . and the world passed into an industrial age which brought greater wealth and power than that produced by all the human effort spent in all preceding ages.

For many years the world's factory system was confined to a few European countries. But gradually it found its way to other regions where natural conditions favoured its development . . . including Canada, which now stands seventh in world manufacturing.

One of the strongest links in Canada's industrial chain is The Canadian Bank of Commerce. This institution meets the most exacting banking requirements of the successful manufacturer.

This Bank also provides safe custody for the factory workers' savings and, by placing these savings in commercial channels, helps to bring him new materials on which to work. Thus his own savings keep the worker employed.

Your savings, deposited in any of the 800 branches of The Canadian Bank of Commerce, would have the same protection, and would serve the same useful purpose.

WHEAT LOWER AT OPENING IN CHICAGO

Heavy Buying Follows Break — Market Fairly Active and Prices Average Higher

RAINS REPORTED FAIRLY GENERAL

(B.C. Bond Corporation, Ltd.)

CHICAGO, April 28.—Wheat was lower at the opening, due to further rains over the Winter and Spring wheat belt, and weak Liverpool cables, but the break brought in heavy buying attributed to short covering by local professionals, and an upturn of around 2c from the early low followed.

The market was fairly active, but there was no material pressure on the declines and prices averaged higher the greater part of the day.

There was persistent liquidation in the May, with considerable spreading under way between that month and the deferred futures, with July holding 2 1-4c over May against 1 3-4c on Saturday. Rains in the Southwest over the week-end were reported as fairly general with more rain received at some points during the day and the forecast for showers. Foreigners were good buyers of North American cash wheat, taking around 1,000,000 bushels in all positions, including Manitobas, durums and some hard Winters, following sales of 2,000,000 bushels or more on Saturday. Visible supply decreased 3,404,000 bushels for the week and is 136,000,000 bushels against 114,787,000 last year.

Corn was unsettled on scattered buying. Visible supply decreased 1,773,000 bushels and is 21,663,000 bushels against 28,194,000 last year. Buenos Aires futures were unchanged at midday.

Oats held within relatively narrow limits with a moderate trade. Weather conditions generally were favorable for the new crop. Visible supply decreased 316,000 bushels for the week. Rye was weaker with wheat and on scattered selling.

Will Hasten Tariff Bill Enactment

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, April 28.—Increasing pressure from business men, who assert that delay in passing the tariff bill has been an element in holding back the revival of business activities and the congestion of other legislation, are factors now operating to hasten the final enactment of the tariff bill. In the opinion of some Republican leaders the bill should become a law before the end of May, perhaps by the middle of the month. This prediction is based on the belief that the House may dispose of the controversial subjects this week, and that the Senate might act finally in another week. There is no disposition on the part of any faction to adopt dilatory measures.

Reports from London, Saturday, that Thomas Cochrane, a partner of J. P. Morgan Co., was conducting negotiations for a prospective merger of the Columbia Graphophone Co. and His Master's Voice Gramophone Co., was credited in Wall Street as indicating that a consolidation of these two companies may be imminent. The Morgan interest, it is understood, exists through Morgan's Grenfell & Co., of London, which has a large holding in the Columbia Co., while the Gramophone Co. is virtually controlled by the Radio Corporation of America, through substantial minority holdings. It was learned in well informed circles that the merger would probably leave Radio Corporation a large minority of holders in the combined companies in the same manner that General Electric is the principal, but minority stockholder in Associated Electric Industries, Ltd., of England, in the A.E.G., of Germany, in the Thomson Houston, of France, and other foreign concerns.

International Revenue Bureau reports collections for nine months ended March 31, 1930, of $2,277,253,096, increase of $140,000,000 over same period a year ago.

Tape Topics

Trading was quite heavy, with nervousness predominating, on the New York Exchange yesterday. With coppers remaining weak and most of the companies reporting lower earnings for the current quarter, bears took their opportunity to give the market a further correction, an attitude which had been expected for some time.

No news developed during the day which would indicate higher prices for the time being, but the majority of the experienced traders believe that a normal recovery of from five to ten points can be expected during the week. This, however, it is considered, would take the form of a slow market until Thursday, when brokers' liens will be announced.

A NEW HIGH

Standard Oil of New Jersey registered a new high, oils being the only stocks which held up till noon, but new loans were sustained by Stewart Warner, Amer. Loco, Studebaker, National Cash Register, and the following coppers: Magma, Anaconda, Calumet and Arizona, Granby and Howe Sound. All the averages were off, industrials no less than 8.52, rails 2.71, and utilities 3.20. Total sales amounted to 4,845,500.

The local oils market continued quiet, with A.P.C. Calmont, United and Home responsible for most of the trading. Amalgamated made a new high and Model and United new lows. A.P.C. had a first sale at $1.59 and a last at $1.60. Calmont went from a first transaction at $1.15 to a last at $1.20. United, from 46c touched a cent lower before a last sale at 48c. Home, ex div., from $7.75 touched $7.50, rose to $7.60 and closed at $7.50-$7.55. C. & E. had a few sales at $1.25, as did Amalgamated at 15c, closing one cent lower. Freehold traveled from 58c to 52c. Model sold at 25c, hit the 22c mark and sold last at 25c, and McLeod went from $1.75 to $1.80, closing at $1.80-$1.90.

MINES QUIET

The mines continued very quiet. George Copper opened at $1.95, made a new low at $1.80, and closed at $1.60-$1.95. Pend Oreille also made a new low, at $1.25, which was five cents less than the price of the first sale, the stock closing $1.25, bid. Reeves McDonald sold at 45c, Premier at $1.01, Grandview around 7c, and Big Missouri at 40c and 41c. Some more Woodbines sold respectively at 4c, 3c and 4c.

At Toronto, Falconbridge was up 10c at $2.75, closing at $2.70-$3.00, but the leading traders showed declines; Noranda, after a first sale at $30, touching $30.25, dropping to $29.75 and selling last 10 points higher. International Nickel fell from $36.25 to $35.50, closing at $35, bid. Sheritt Gordon, opening at $1.82 was two cents lower at the close. Sudbury Basin opened and closed at the same price of $1.90, declining seven points en route, and Ventures traveled from $1.35 to $1.29.

MR. H. E. BOORMAN IS RE-ELECTED HEAD OF TOURIST GROUP

Mr. H. E. Boorman was yesterday re-elected chairman of the tourist group of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. C. P. Hill, Mr. W. A. Willis, Mr. A. H. Colishaw, Mr. D. W. Campbell, Mr Herbert Kent and Mr Joseph Rose will serve on the executive for the ensuing year

Following a suggestion, made yesterday by Mr. H. E. Boorman at the regular luncheon of the group, it was decided to investigate the expenditure of licence fees, which the city collected from Victoria business men for publicity purposes. It was argued that the money had been placed with the city's general revenue, and was not used for the purpose for which it was intended.

An international glider congress was held recently at Darmstad, Germany.

HECLA MINING EARNINGS UP

DEVELOPMENT IS PROCEEDING VIGOROUSLY ON STAR, NOW PRODUCER

Work Proceeds on Hec[illegible]'s Union Mine in B.C.—Dividend Total Now Nearly $19,000,000

(Meharry, Roe & Co., Ltd.)

Hecla Mining reports for the year ended December 31 showed a net income of $1,879,477 after all charges and Federal taxes, equal to $1.88 a share on the 1,000,000 capital shares (25c par) outstanding. This compares with $1,582,984 or $1.58 a share on the same capital share basis in 1928.

The company produced from its own mine in 1929 on company account 310,753 tons of ore and shipped 57,827 tons of concentrates and high-grade ore, from which were recovered 58,725,644 pounds of lead, 1,662,212 ounces of silver and 1,364,988 pounds of zinc. There was recovered from leasers' operations 217,865 pounds of lead, 5,857 ounces of silver and 21,719 pounds of zinc. Ore reserves at end of 1929 came to 2,176,047 tons.

James F. McCarthy, president of Hecla, says that development at the Star mine, in which Hecla Mining and Bunker Hill & Sullivan each own a half interest, proceeding without interruption during 1929. He says that the footwall raise being put up from the 4,000-foot level of the Star to connect with the Moffat tunnel, 2,800 feet higher, is now [illegible] 900 feet of that level. Levels from the raise have been opened at 3,700-foot horizon and every 200 feet up. Five of these levels have been run to the property line on the east, where it meets the Federal Mining & Smelting's Morning workings. On the sixth level the drive is about half way to the east property line. Development in the Morning mine has reached a level about 1,000 feet below the lowest level of the Star. Star property began to produce in 1929, turning out 114,034 tons of ore, from which 8,873,708 pounds of lead, 15,455,002 pounds of zinc, and 123,593 pounds of silver were recovered.

UNION MINE

Work is proceeding at Hecla's Union mine in British Columbia. This mine has been opened to a depth of roughly 536 feet from surface, but no commercial ore has been opened as yet on the fourth or deepest level. Ore has been found of commercial grade on the third level and the company thinks it now knows the limits of the ore body. Additional fine-grinding equipment is being installed at the flotation mill, which was built to have a capacity of 100 tons a day, but which could not handle more than seventy-five tons a day owing to difficulty in fine grinding. The new equipment will permit operating the plant at capacity. Mr. McCarthy adds that the ore body at this mine is small and that its operation will never add any large amount to the [illegible] holdings.

Hecla, which has paid $18,705,000 in dividends up to the end of 1929, once sold below 10 cents a share as compared with nearly $19 a share in dividends and a prevailing price of around $13, or the equivalent of approximately $32 a share.

BUSINESS SLACK AT LOCAL MARKET

Various Causes Attributed by Stallholders—Green Vegetables Becoming Plentiful

Business was slightly below the average week-end volume at the Victoria Public Market Saturday, a circumstance which a number of the stallholders attributed to the rain. Others thought that flower sales were affected because of the auction of cut flowers at the closing of the Spring Flower Show at the Willows, where there would be plenty of bargains. Whatever the cause, trading was slack. Meat prices remain steady, and egg prices have not varied for several weeks. Red salmon was selling for 32 cents a pound, a reduction of 3 cents below its selling price a week ago. Rhubarb was cheap enough, quantities of it selling at three pounds for 10 cents. Generous quantities of green vegetables are now available; lettuce is getting larger and consequently cheaper. During the past few weeks many varieties of vegetable and flower plants for bedding out have been offered on the market and are finding ready customers.

ORDERLY END OF REACTION LIKELY

Utilities and Oils Show Persistent Strength During Past Week—Conservation Advised

(B.C. Bond Corporation, Ltd.)

NEW YORK, April 28. (By Kingsley).—The persistent strength in utilities and oil during the last few days of the past week, while selling predominated elsewhere, assures an orderly completion of the reaction within the next few days. Price recessions in weaker groups should become more moderate and the total of the decline should be well within the limits which we outlined at the beginning of the current readjustment. We, therefore, believe that we are now approaching the final stage of the setback, and within the next few days should be able to advise unreserved buying in other sections of the list as we have already done with utilities and oils; for the time being, however, discrimination is still required.

Today's opening should be influenced favorably by week-end accumulated orders and higher prices are looked for. After buying from these sources has dried up, a tendency toward profit-taking should develop and the price structure should weaken considerably. The weaker issues will fall to rally, but the market will again be supported by aggressive buying in several favorite groups. We consequently do not advise to enter new commitments at the opening, but suggest delaying such purchases well toward mid-day, when recessions should enable one to place orders more advantageously.

On the whole we recommend conservatism and advise holding funds in reserve a little while longer for the purpose of diversifying the list with stocks other than utilities and oils. As the quarterly reports have not been completed, we may look for several unfavorable statements of the larger corporations which will cause considerable worry amongst traders, and thereby contribute towards further unsettlement. Later in the week, however, rallying tendencies should become more pronounced. We feel that the majority stocks have discounted the unfavorable results of the first quarter, and their technical position has been improved appreciably by the selling of the last two weeks.

BANQUET AND PRESENTATION TO REV. A. WALTER

TOFINO, April 26.—(By Mail.)—A farewell banquet and presentation of a choice sample of Indian basketry was tendered in the Soldiers' Memorial Hall, on Thursday evening, to Comrade Rev. Ardagh Walter, who has officiated for the past three years as vicar of the St. Colomba Church of England in this place and has now been recalled to his sphere of endeavor in the Old Country.

The tables were artistically decorated with early Spring flowers and loaded with a variety of nice things to eat.

Sergeant-Major James Moore acted as drill master and Major George Nicholson dispensed the rum ration.

Comrade John Mitchell, of the Tofino Trading Company, made the presentation, accompanied by a suitable address, which was heartily responded to by the reverend comrade, while Mardo Macleod, Ronald Matterson, Mrs. George Anderothers added their meed of praise for the departing clergyman.

At the termination of the banquet the doors were thrown open to the general public and a dance was given, which was very well attended.

The Rev. J. W. Leighton, chaplain of the Army and Navy Veterans in Victoria, is slated as his successor as pastor in the Tofino Church.

LANGFORD GUIDES ENTERTAIN WITH SHOW AND DANCE

LANGFORD, April 28.—By the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. C. Bennett, the local company of Girl Guides gave an entertainment and dance at Langford Lakeside on Friday evening.

The different items on the programme were rendered in a manner which would have been exceedingly creditable to much older girls, and reflected great credit on their captain, Mrs. S. R. Reynolds, and those who assisted in their training.

The programme was announced by Mrs. Reynolds as follows:

Pianoforte solo, "Reverie," Elizabeth Welch; play, "A Marriage of Convenience," Eleanor Peatt, Stella Hincks, Eileen Hincks, Greta Hebden, Pamela Bennett, M. Smedley, E. Welch and Cecily Bennett; Irish jig, Georgina Cooney, accompanist, Ada Simpson; recitation, "The Skinners," Eileen Hincks; acrobatic dance, Margaret Smedley; pianoforte solo, "Love's Dream After the Ball," Lily Ilott; skit, "Ten Jolly Langford Guides."

After the programme Messrs. H. Welch, B. Swenson, Ed. Christopher and Art Farey provided music for dancing. Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. P. N. Welch were presented with bouquets by Lily Ilott, Elizabeth Welch and Stella Hincks.

Sale No. 2099.

ADVERTISING AGENCIES ARE MERGED

Eastern and Western Canadian Advertising Services Join Forces to Cover Whole Dominion

STATUS OF LOCAL OFFICE UNCHANGED

A merger of great importance to manufacturers and business interests operating in all parts of Canada is covered by the announcement of the consolidation of the Crawford-Harris Advertising Service, with its Western Canadian branches and connections, with J. J. Gibbons, Limited., well known as one of the oldest and most progressive agencies in the Dominion. The union of these advertising firms places the new organization in a leading position as regards service to Canadian advertisers and all firms having markets in the Dominion.

MR. J. J. GIBBONS
Of J. J. Gibbons, Limited, Toronto, who will be chairman of the board of Crawford-Harris, Limited.

The Crawford-Harris Advertising Service was established twelve years ago by David Crawford and Frank Harris, of Vancouver. With unbounded faith in the development of Western Canada, these two young men have, step by step, established an organization which now thoroughly covers the West and is well and favorably known throughout the Dominion. With head office at Vancouver, it maintains fully-staffed branches under the direction of trained advertising experts at Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Winnipeg and Victoria, thus completely covering Western Canada with well-established local connections at strategic centres. The merger links this organization with the old-established and well-known advertising firm of J. J. Gibbons, Limited, with head office in Toronto and branches in Montreal, Halifax, Winnipeg and

Of Vancouver, who will be vice-president of Crawford-Harris, Limited.

Vancouver in Canada, also in New York and London, England. The combination of the two organizations is such as enables the merging companies to offer a complete transcanad advertising and merchandizing service with local contact and personal knowledge available at every important centre of the Dominion and central points in the United States and the Old Country.

Under the merging arrangements, the chain of offices previously conducted by the Crawford-Harris Advertising Service will continue to operate as at present under a Dominion incorporation to be known as Crawford-Harris, Limited. This company will act as agents for J. J. Gibbons, Limited, and in turn J. J. Gibbons, Limited, will act as agents for Crawford-Harris, Limited. The Vancouver office, operated by J. J. Gibbons, Limited, for the past two years, will be absorbed by the new company and its manager, Mr. R. A. Hutchinson, will be connected with the board of the new company. Crawford-Harris, Limited, will be directed almost entirely by the Western Canadians who built up the organization, Mr. Frank Harris being president; Mr. David Crawford and Mr. R. A. Hutchinson, vice-presidents; J. J. Gibbons, of Toronto, chairman of the board, and H. C. Skinner of Winnipeg, Reg. G. Smith of Calgary, L. E. C. Manley of Vancouver and Ewart Macpherson of Regina, directors.

Mr. A. V. Clarke, manager of the Victoria branch of Crawford-Harris Advertising Service, established an advertising agency here under his own name about fourteen years ago and affiliated with Crawford-Harris Advertising Service in 1922. While the present merger greatly enlarges the field from which accurate merchandizing data can be secured for Vancouver Island manufacturers, the status of the local office remains unchanged. It will continue under the ownership and management of Mr. A. V. Clarke.

MR. A. V. CLARKE
Of Victoria, who will be Victoria manager of Crawford-Harris, Limited.

LANGFORD ENJOYS 'SEA FLEA' RACES

Johnn Wenger Pilots Sad News to Fine Win to Capture "B" Class Event

LANGFORD, April 28.—A large crowd visited Langford Lakeside on Sunday afternoon to see the first race of the season of the hydroplane club's motorboats.

In spite of an unusually choppy lake the B class race was run between Johnny Wenger in Sad News and Bob Shanks in Indian for five laps for points for permanent trophy presented by Mr. H. C. Bennett, of Langford Lakeside. From the first Wenger took the lead, although at the east end of the lake Shanks gained by taking an inside course at the turn, but at the last lap Sad News made a decidgd gain, eventually winning by half a lap.

In the C class race were Cliff Lupton in Miss De Soto, Jack Smith and Norman Findler in Better Motor Car Repairs, and Barnsdale in Johnson Stepper. Owing to the heavy northwest wind, Miss De Soto and Johnson Stepper were forced to fall out and the race was abandoned. After waiting awhile, the waters calmed and the race was run.

During the second lap Johnson Stepper hit a snag and lost the engine; Better Motor Car Repairs led, finally winning by half a lap over Miss De Soto.

On May 11 there will be another race with two more boats.

Next Sunday afternoon there will be a display of motorboat pig-sticking, when boats racing from given points will try to spike colored balloons.

The club has agreed to put mufflers on all boats to minimize noise.

'FRIEND HANNAH' IS BIG SUCCESS

University Players Delight Large Audience With Artistic Presentation at Royal

The beginning of the last century found a feeble-minded king upon the throne of England, whose malady, according to the chroniclers of that time, took the form of playing hymn tunes upon the spinet with one finger. So real, however, was the performance of the Players' Club of the University of British Columbia, given last night to a packed house at the Royal Victoria Theatre under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club, that one left the theatre convinced that the third George was not playing hymn tunes, but those melodies which had been played by a great souled little wife during the first two months of his reign.

"Friend Hannah," a comedy in four acts by Paul Kester, seems to have puzzled its own author, in that he could not describe it as a tragedy, although it is full of pathos; just as he could not describe it as a drama, although there is plenty of strong dramatic interest. So he calls it a comedy, and makes the best of the only unsatisfactory word in the script.

THEORY OF PLOT POSSIBLE

The plot is not only cleverly constructed, but is a perfectly possible supposition, which invests one of the dullest figures in the English history books with a glow of real romance.

We are introduced to a typical Quaker family of the eighteenth century, addressing each other as "thee," and throwing up their hands in horror at the worldliness of Hannah Lightfoot, who has so far forgotten herself as to dance round the Maypole, and to "put two tucks above the hem of her gown."

In the garden of her mother's house she meets the Prince of Wales, and their mutual attraction for each other is so far advanced when she goes to stay with her uncle in London that she elopes with him, without knowing who he is. The same night, King George II dies.

THEIR MARRIED LIFE

This is the beginning of their two months of married life, she living in seclusion in the country, and the young king paying clandestine visits to a wife who is still unaware of his identity.

Matters reach a crisis when he informs his mother and the Prime Minister that he is married and intends to publish the fact. Augusta, Princess Dowager of Wales, visits Hannah, and persuades her, for the good of England, to leave the country, in order that the marriage may be annulled.

Fifty years later we find Hannah, an old lady now, back in the garden of her old home. The King of England, a decrepit, childish old man, travelling to Windsor, again visits the garden and, to use his own expression, "walks with Hannah's spirit." He goes; and Hannah is left with the last lines of the play: "It seems but yesterday."

EXCELLENT ACTING

The play, while entirely charming, would be an ambitious one for an experienced professional company. Last night's success, therefore, reflects all the more credit upon the actors and upon Mr. F. G. C. Wood, who directed the performance.

It would be impossible to find a greater sincerity than that shown by Miss Sheila Tisdall in the title role. Her vivacity in the first two acts could only be equalled by her more strenuous work during the last two, and her performance throughout the play was outstanding.

As the king, Mr. John U. Coleman had an exceedingly difficult part, which he played extremely well, making a remarkably convincing study of the pathetic figure in the last act. He was ably supported by Mr. Richard Lendrum and Mr. D. Hamilton Brock.

Miss Ann Ferguson showed a remarkable sense of the power of miming and facial expression, and supplied the comedy cleverly and unselfishly. Mr. Alex. G. Smith made a clever character study of Hannah's uncle. He has a good voice and knows how to use it. Mr. Sidney Risk also played efficiently, and contrived very cleverly to introduce a suggestion of pathos into an otherwise comic part.

Miss Elizabeth Magee's role was another difficult one, played with a quiet sympathy, and the cast was rounded off by Miss Betty Buckland, Mr. St. John Madeley and Mr. James A. Gibson, who all put up creditable performances.

The audience was exceedingly enthusiastic, and the Kiwanians are to be congratulated upon the enjoyment which was given to so many people last night.

"Every boy owes a great deal to his father," says Mr. Justice Eve. That's why so many to go "uncle" for a loan.

Mutiny Rampant in Ohio Penitentiary

battered down. The problem of repairing this damage faces the authorities before there can be any complete restoration of order.

Twice the officials conceded to demands of the prisoners today on their promise to quiet down. Their first demand was for removal of the police details in the yard. They declined to eat until the police were taken out. The bluecoats were withdrawn, but the promised quietude was not forthcoming. The men, in fact, were more disorderly than ever.

TELL THEM TO STARVE

Soon came a demand from the idle house that prisoners be served their noonday meal in the cages. Thomas sent back word they could starve in their cells if they would not obey orders, but Deputy Warden J. L. C. Woodard appealed to them to be quiet and coaxed them to go to the mess halls. The prisoners then demanded assurance they would be returned safely to their cell blocks if they marched out to the noon meal. This assurance was given. While the prisoners were eating, guards went into the cell blocks and searched for weapons and holes portending escape plots.

Definite action is expected from officials tomorrow to put down the revolt and restore conditions to normal. Thomas said his plans have been mapped out, but he refused to disclose them. He declared there would be no further bartering with the convicts. He said about 1,300 prisoners have joined in the disturbances while 3,100 remained orderly.

Adopt By-Law To Fix Rate Of Taxation

NANAIMO, April 28. — Mayor Hall presided over this evening's meeting of the local council, all aldermen being present.

The council reconsidered and finally adopted a by-law to fix the rate of taxation for 1930, which fixes the rates for the various purposes as follows:

For the payment of interest and principal of debts incurred by the municipality, 13.74 mills on the dollar; for school purposes, 28.61 mills on the dollar; for general purposes, 4.65 mills on the dollar. The penalties for nonpayment are as usual, if not paid by July 15 5 per cent of the amount is added and on the first day of November an addition 10 per cent is added.

The public works superintendent reported an expenditure of $388.45 on streets during the past week and on waterworks $85.59 for the same period.

Mr. Frank L. Reynolds, secretary of the Empire Day committee wrote asking the council to have Haliburton and Finlayson Streets free from traffic during the parade and children's sports here on May 24. On motion of Alderman Drake, seconded by Alderman Dixon, the request was granted.

A letter was received from the acting manager of the Children's Aid Society of Vancouver asking for the grant of $155.78 from the council for the purpose of helping defray the cost of carfig for local children. On motion of Alderman Inkster and Alderman Drake the matter will be handed to the finance committee for report and action.

ITALIANS PLAN SPEEDY LINERS

Rex and Dux Hoped to Win Transatlantic Speed Laurels at the Rate of Twenty-Seven Knots

SHIPBUILDERS HAVE DETAILS OF BREMEN

(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

ROME, Italy, April 28.—Italy has has formally entered the transatlantic speed race with the beginning of work on a new 45,000-ton liner, Rex, at Genoa. This new ocean greyhound is being constructed for the Navigazione Generale Italiana, while another ship of the same proportions, to be known as Dux, will soon be begun by a shipyard in Trieste for the Lloyd Sabaudo Line. A slip at the latter yard is now being extended preparatory to the laying of the liner's keel.

Each ship will be 260 metres long (853 feet), and will have a normal speed of twenty-seven knots. It is understood that the plans of the Bremen were obtained by the Navigazione Generale, while the Lloyd Sabaudo Line hired Dr. Foster, designer of the Leviathan and the Majestic, to design the boilers, turbines and machinery for its entry in the speed race.

The Rex, on which work was begun yesterday, will carry 3,050 persons and will be equipped with such modern luxuries as a theatre, swimming pool, chapel and garage.

CALGARY, Alta, April 28.—When the raft on which he was paddling sank in the Bow River here Sunday, nine-year-old Harold Milton Burleigh was drowned. A chum witnessed the tragedy, but was unable to do anything to help the boy.

OWE LIVES TO CAPTAIN BEEBE

PRESENCE OF MIND OF HARDING'S MASTER PRAISED BY COLLIER'S HEAD

Keeps Doomed British Craft Afloat Until All But One of Crew Safe

HAMBURG, Germany, April 28.—Captain Larin, of the ill-fated British collier Kirkwood, which the American liner President Harding rammed and sunk in the mouth of the Elbe during a heavy fog, today said he and his crew owed their lives to the presence of mind of Captain Beebe, of the President Harding.

He described how Captain Beebe, ramming his bow far into the hull of the Kirkwood at his stern, kept his ship at full steam ahead for about two minutes, or such time as was necessary to save the crew of the doomed tanker. The effect of the full steam ahead was to give the Kirkwood a lateral propulsion of her own which kept her afloat momentarily before she filled with water and sank.

The entire crew with the exception of one fireman, who was drowned, were rescued.

Examination of the President Harding today showed that a hole seven feet long and a foot wide had been torn in the liner's starboard side near the bow about a yard above the water line. The Kirkwood sank seven minutes after the collision.

FINE FUTURE FOR AIR MAIL ROUTES

Alberta to Be Connected With United States Coast-to-Coast Lines

WINNIPEG, April 28.—Expansion of the air mail service in Western Canada was forecast here last night by Mr. Kenneth A. Blatchford, Member of Parliament for Edmonton East, who arrived here today en route to Ottawa.

Mr. Blatchford, who flew from Edmonton, said before the end of the year, if the Government carries out its intention, Alberta will see an extension of the air mail service to connect with United States transcontinental routes. The Federal Government intends to start a night mail service from Edmonton, taking in Calgary and Bethbridge, and ending at Great Falls, Montana, where connections will be made with the United States routes to Chicago and the Eastern States, and with the cities of the Pacific Coast. Survey of possible routes to Vancouver is under way, and a service soon will be inaugurated from Prince Albert, Sask., to mining districts in Northern Saskatchewan.

Twice-a-month air mail service will be operated to Lac la Ronge, Ile a la Crosse, Stanley Mission and other points in Northern Saskatchewan.

Mr. Blatchford also predicted extension of radio services in the North, which will prove of great assistance to airmen flying northern routes.

ARTEMISIA'S MEN HERE ON MISHIMA

Return From Osaka After Seeing British Vessel Sold for $76,800

On their way from Osaka to various Old Country seaports, nineteen members of the twenty-nine-year-old British freighter Artemisia arrived here at 3:25 o'clock yesterday afternoon aboard the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Mishima Maru.

Captain W. Pace, the freighter's master, passed through Victoria aboard the Empress of Russia on Saturday.

Built at Newcastle in 1901, the Artemisia is 452 feet long 52.2 feet beam, 28.3 feet deep, 5,731 tons gross and 3,659 tons net. Owned by Mr. H. M. Thompson, of London, who sold her to Japanese interests for $76,800. The vessel was at Esquimalt in 1925 to have a funnel replaced by the Victoria Machinery Depot.

Fitted with quadruple expansion engines developing 3,500 indicated hoursepower, the Artemisia always proved expensive to operate, according to Mr. G. Buchan, chief engineer. She carried a full crew of forty-eight hands, and at a speed of 13.5 knots consumed forty-eight tons of coal each twenty-four hours. She was usually operated at nine knots and a fuel consumption of thirty-two tons per day.

Leaving London for Java with a cargo of coke, the freighter experienced extremely rough weather during a gale off the Bay of Biscay, and for a time the crew thought all was up. Good seamanship and overworked pumps finally succeeded in keeping down the water let in by straining rivets in many parts of her hull. Nearly 100 miles away a tug was sunk during the same storm, with the loss of twenty lives.

Members of the Artemisia's crew left on the night boat for Vancouver, and at Quebec will board Ss. Minnedosa. They included:

Mr. D. Hunter, chief mate; Mr. J. J. Philip, third mate; Mr. A. J. Quinton, wireless operator; Mr. J. Dunlop, fourth engineer; Mr. M. Cochrane, third engineer; Mr. W. Stewart, second engineer; Mr. T. Coe, fifth engineer; Mr. A. P. Noble, second mate; Mr. G. Buchan, chief engineer, and Messrs. E. O. Hansen, J. B. Smith, G. Hines, W. J. George, P. R. Wood, W. Greenfield, A. Harvey, R. Ellis, L. A. Melville and A. Hall, seamen.

Leaving Yokohama on April 15, Captain S. Takahashi reported a smooth voyage across the Pacific. The Mishima Maru brought twenty first class passengers, six second class, seventeen third class, 101 tons of cargo and forty-one bags of mail to this port. For Seattle there were twenty-two first class passengers, sixteen second class, thirty-four third class 3,424 tons of cargo and 190 bags of mail.

Secretary of Air To Be Passenger On R-100 Flight

LONDON, April 28.—It is learned that Lord Thomson, Secretary of State for Air, will be a passenger on the R-100, when the dirigible makes her flight to Canada late in May, provided it is found the secretary's duties will, at that time, permit of his absence. The minor mishap suffered by the great airship the other day, when she was being taken from her shed, will not interfere with the plans for the trip.

Seattle Arrives To Load Lumber For China Ports

CHEMAINUS, April 28.—On Sunday evening Ss. Seattle entered this port to load lumber, the longshoremen commencing work immediately. Night and day shifts will work upon her until her cargo is complete. The Seattle is loading for China ports.

On Sunday the Island Comet, in command of Captain A. Warren, entered to collect empty scows. The tug Canada, Captain S. Salvesen, brought the sawdust barge Betsy Ross. The Island Tug & Barge Co.'s tug Hopkins brought in a boom of logs from Oyster Bay.

The R. F. M. called in with a Great Northern transfer. Canadian National No. 1 brought in a Canadian National transfer. The tug Etta Mac, in command of Captain O. E. Wootten, called in on Sunday with the Vancouver - Courtenay freight barge.

CREW EATING LUNCH ESCAPE ALL INJURY

NEW YORK, April 28.—An explosion in the after end of General Cornelius Vanderbilt's $1,000,000 yacht Winchester, off the New York Yacht Club today, did considerable damage to the vessel and shook the East River waterfront for blocks.

General Vanderbilt was not aboard and none of his crew of twenty-two was injured. They were all forward at lunch when the explosion occurred.

The blast in a ninety-gallon gasoline tank astern of the engine room tore out the deck aft of the second smokestack and caused a fire which burned out the crew's quarters, part of the wooden deck and sun sails or awnings above the main deck. Cause of the explosion was unknown.

SYNOPSIS

Roberta Antrim, an American girl, receives word that her uncle, Tom Antrim, has been killed in Texas. The message is signed by Jaime Miguel Higuenes. Roberta decides to leave at once for Texas.

CHAPTER III

A Sabbath calm lay upon the hacienda of Don Jaime Miguel Higuenes, lord of the Rancho Valle Verde, notwithstanding the fact that it was Sunday. The splash of water in a fountain, the occasional chirp of a bird, the faint diapason of insect movement and the occasional complaint of a distant calf lulled, rather than disturbed, the half-formed dreams of this temperamental Don Jaime, where he stretched on a long chair on his cool, red-tiled veranda and gazed out through the arched entrance of his patio toward the distant, blue serrated hills where the United States of America ended and the Republic of Mexico began. The smoke from a fragrant cigar curled lazily around his dark countenance; from time to time he reached forth to the little table at his side and helped himself to a sip from a highball.

"I wonder," thought Don Jaime presently, "what is going to become of the Higuenes family."

The problem proving too much for him, Don Jaime did that which all of his race do with the utmost ease and without preliminary. He fell into a gentle slumber. And while he slept a man on a honey-colored horse with a dark stripe running the length of his backbone rode up to the hacienda entrance, dismounted, dropped his reins over his horse's neck and strode stiffly through the arched entrance and down the flower-bordered gravel walk to the veranda. Observing Don Jaime at peace in the arms of Morpheus, the stranger removed a full cartridge belt, with two pistols, and hung the armament on one of a row of huge spikes driven into the adobe wall of the house. Quietly he drew another chair alongside Don Jaime, disposed his tired body in it, sighed, caught sight of Don Jaime's highball, which was at least three-quarters present, helped himself to it and drank slowly and with much appreciation.

"That's good liquor," he murmured, setting down the tall glass.

"You bet your sweet life it's good liquor," Don Jaime murmured, without troubling to open his eyes. "Who are you?"

"Wake up, you lazy greaser, and see," the visitor retorted.

"Now that you speak in your naturally loud, vulgar and irreverent tone of voice I recognize you. I do not have to look." Don Jaime spoke perfect English, but the faintest clipped accent denoted that it was not his mother tongue. He added in Spanish: "Welcome to my house. It is yours, gringo."

"I don't want your poor house. All I desire is accommodation and food for my horse and myself until morning and——"

"Thou graceless one!" Don Jaime murmured drowsily, but without offense. "But what else can one expect of a Texan—and particularly a Texan ranger?"

"I have never been invited to your poor house," the visitor complained. "I just come anyhow, and of course, once I'm here, you put the best face possible on the matter and bid me welcome. Besides I'm not a Texan. I'm a Californian, and in California we have a habit of asking a thirsty man if he has a mouth. Don't tell me, Jimmy, that I've finished the last of your pre-war Scotch."

"Yo have. You finished it three years ago, you ungrateful animal," Don Jaime retorted, adverting again to English. "And that highball which you have just pinched from me while I slept is Irish, not Scotch, and reached this country via Mexico. Irish whisky, I find, is not as changeable as the Irish. In the national rush for Scotch, Irish has been forgotten save by those few discerning individuals who still entertain a lingering respect for their viscera. 'Kai, Flavio!'"

Bare feet pattered down the hall from the interior of the hacienda. An ancient peon, with just sufficient Castilian blood mingling with the Aztec to arch the bridge of his nose, appeared in the doorway, looked, and disappeared immediately. Presently he returned with a full bottle, an old silver bucket filled with ice, a bottle of soda and another glass and a box of cigars. The visitor laughed pleasantly.

"Flavio requires no orders when he sees me on the premises, Jimmy. Any time I stop here he knows I've ridden a hard twenty miles and am tired and thirsty and need a generous pickup."

"He knows the capacity of Ken Hobart, at any rate." Don Jaime roused and poured a peg for his guest, then helped himself to one. "Indeed, Ken," he assured Hobart, "you are doubly welcome, because you spare me the unspeakable depravity of drinking alone——. No, don't worry about the horse. Flavio will send a boy to care for him, and your bath will be ready in an hour What brings you here?"

"A desire to be neighborly and to offer a slight return for your many evidences of princely hospitality—that and a natural desire to enjoy it again. Since when did you go into the sheep business, Jimmy?"

Don Jaime's dark eyes opened widely and the hint of an ever-ready smile faded from his handsome features, leaving them unbelievably stern. "Where?" he demanded.

"About ten miles south of here. I came across country from San Ysidro and bumped into them on your range. About forty thousand of them, I should say, although I'm no judge of sheep in quantity. There was a camp in a cottonwood grove in a little green valley some two miles further on. Two men came out and looked at me as if I wouldn't be welcome, so I rode on. I judged the sheep might not be yours. The brand is Circle A."

"Tom Antrim's outfit. "Well, if he's only ten miles from here he's trespassing on my range. Thanks for the information, Ken. Feed is prety scarce to the east of me and I suppose Tom Antrim got desperate. Yes, you have your uses, gringo."

"If you care to run into Los Algodones and swear to a warrant charging him and John Doe and Richard Doe and James Black and Thomas Green and say a dozen off-color pants with trespassing. I'll pick those boys up and lodge them in the 'juzgado'; then you and your boys can run the sheep off in peace."

"I don't want to run them off in peace, Ken," Don Jaime replied languidly, "I've done that before and it doesn't work. They always come back. Sure you haven't got some other work to do tomorrow?"

"Now, look here, Jimmy," the ranger protested, "you listen to me. Tom Antrim's there to stay. So I'm going to hang around the neighborhood. He's got twenty herders with him and I noticed they all carried rifles . . . Well, here's mud in your eye."

They drank to each other. "A man's house is his castle," said Don Jaime contemplatively, and I presume that principle applies to the lands contiguous thereto. One has a right to defend his castle from unwarranted trespass, and I'm here to tell you, old keed, I am very weary of this Tom Antrim and his sheeps—I mean sheep. Will I never get over the habit of slipping on my plurals, like any Mexican! Three weeks ago the sheriff of this county arrested Tom Antrim and held him and his men long enough to permit me to drive his sheep off the range; and before I called the sheriff in I talked with Tom Antrim. I told him he must not come back again, because eef—I mean if—he did"—here Don Jaime shrugged eloquent shoulders—"well, I would not bother the sheriff to fight for my rights for me. No, by Santa Maria la Purisima! It is in the blood of the Higuenes to fight their own fights."

"Yes, and enjoy them, too."

"We fight in the open," Don Jaime assured him.

"I never said you had any Indian blood in your veins, did I?"

Don Jaime laughed. "I must have the figs in my garden picked," he declared. "The birds are gathering for the feast. Of course, the mocking birds roost in my fig trees and sing sweet songs to me, but the little rascals are too greedy."

"Don't try to switch the conversation," the ranger protested. "From sheep to figs is a jump from the ridiculous to the sublime. I heard all about the famous deli of yours to old Antrim, and I happen to know the old skunk don't take orders worth a cent. Yet, he knows you mean business. That's why all his men are armed. He expects a battle and he knows you'll lead your forces. Now, if you should get killed in the fracas, your executor would be the one to protest against his trespassing in the future. Who might your executor be?"

"The Federal Trust Company of El Paso."

"Ton Antrim owes them a lot of money. In a dry year they might not be too anxious to discover that Antrim was invading your range—that is, not until they had gotten their money out of the old hog. Now I like you, Jimmy, and I don't want to see you get killed. Besides, if you don't get yourself killed, you make work for me and my men. Myself, I'm a man of peace. Consequently it occurred to me——"

"You want me to give him another chance to appear weak and vascillating by talking to that Antrim again?" Don Jaime charged instantly.

"Thank Heaven, my blood is the cool blood of an Anglo-Saxon ancestry. If I had your hot corpuscles, Friend Jimmy, I never would have risen to be a Captain of the Texas Rangers. I'd have been killed as a private. Now, you listen to me, because I have no interest at all in Antrim. I have, however, a sympathetic interest in your broad acres. You plan to go over yonder and start something. All wrong, old son, all wrong. You take a ranger's advice and let the other fellow draw first. Then beat him to the draw. While that policy is highly dangerous to a dull man, it is the safest for a man who knows how to draw in a hurry and shoot straight. It puts the burden of guilt on the enemy and he and not you usually gets the flowers. Jimmy, knowing the impetuosity of your nature, I have ridden over here to stop you doing something inartistic."

"You are always my good friend," murmured Don Jaime gratefully.

"Now, listen, Jimmy," Ken Hobart continued. "Tomorrow I shall make it my business to drop in at that sheep camp for luncheon. A little later you will ride up, alone and unarmed. I'll report to Antrim that you're bent on argument, but not in the smoke; and he'll go out to talk to you, because I'll advise it strongly. When he does you give him final warning in language most becoming a hidalgo of your proud ancestry. He'll think you're weak and afraid and of course he'll disregard the warning . . ."

"Well, having warned him, you ride back home, gather your gang together and take possession of the water holes where Antrim must, of necessity, water his sheep tonight. Don't let him water them. He'll fight for the water rather than back-track over ground that's been eaten over only to find your men guarding the water holes in that direction, too. A sheep can't stand such hardship, and three days without water will see his sheep dying by the thousand.

"You understand me, Jimmy? You provoke the fight, but he shoots first. Then you clean up and clean up good, because that's the only way you're ever going to have peace. Antrim's fate will be a lesson to any other grass thief with designs on your range—and I don't think any jury in this country will convict you of murder, because Antrim and his men will have been clearly outside the law, and you have a record for patient forbearance in the past. And I will be witness to prove that you rode up to Antrim's camp unarmed and talked to him like a gentleman—sabe usted, amigo? A captain of rangers' testimony carries weight with a jury. Anyhow, it just isn't possible to convict a Higuenes in this county. You have never killed anybody or invaded another's rights—and that old buzzard Antrim has never done anything else but."

"You are always," Don Jaime said, "my very good friend. And you are always as wise as a treeful of owls. You plot with all the consumate craft of my own people."
